Farm and Live Stock

ALMANAC 1915

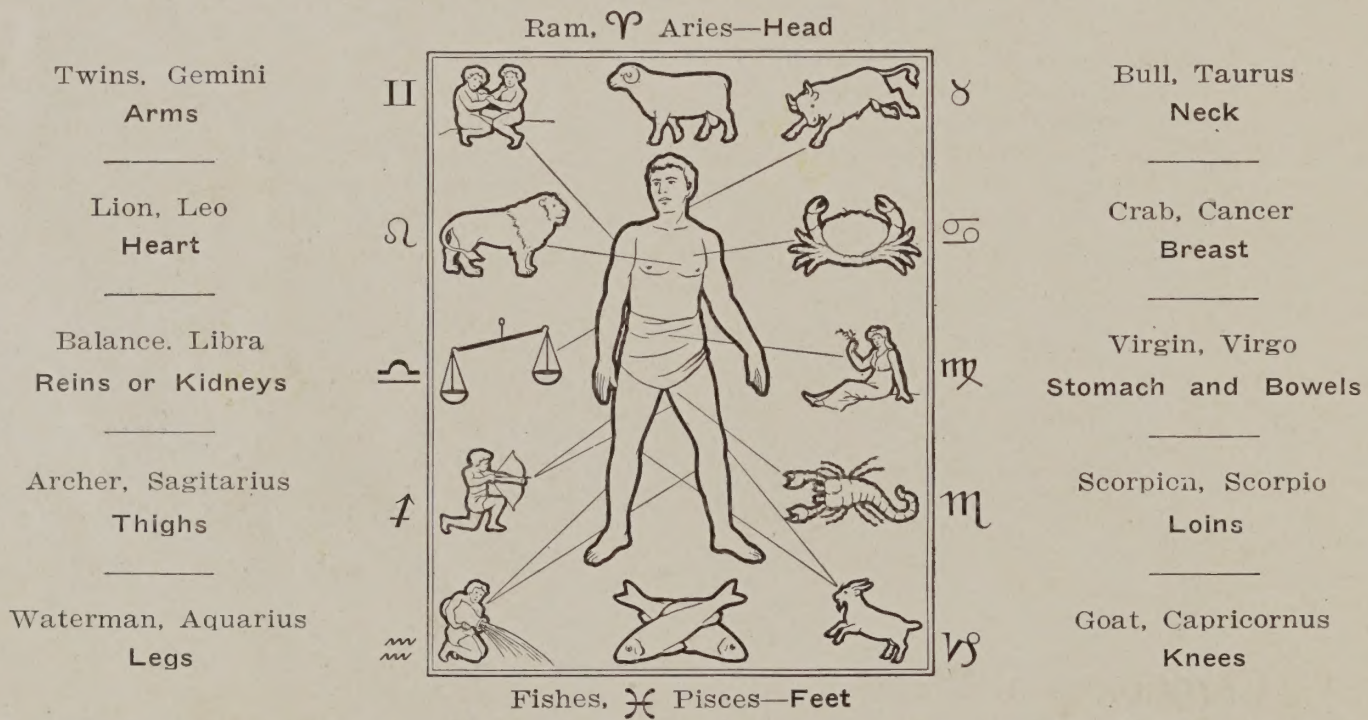

PUBLISHED BY
FLEMING BROS. Chemists
UNION STOCK YARDS, CHICAGO.

The purpose of this diagram is to show the approximate location of the ailments and blemishes named. To present in print the actual likeness of a blemish as it appears upon a horse is practically impossible and has not been attempted. On another page of this almanac brief mention is made of a number of the blemishes here indicated, and for more complete information we refer you to Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser. We have remedies for treating all the ailments named on this diagram, and for others not mentioned here. If you will read this almanac through you will obtain a very good idea as to what Fleming's Remedies are for and what they may reasonably be expected to do.

The Twelve Signs of the Zodiac

A Good Little Book and We Send It Free

Fleming's Veterinary Remedies, though there are several of them, do not afford a suitable treatment for all ailments of horses and cattle. With a view to rendering farmers all the assistance we can in the treatment of their ailing stock, and also with a view to setting forth clearly and adequately the uses and limitations of our own remedies, we have published Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser. This book contains 192 pages, 69 illustrations, and is durably bound in leatherette. It covers over two hundred veterinary subjects, describing diseases so that you will know how to recognize them by their symptoms, telling you their nature and cause, and what you should do to cure them. The illustration on the back cover of this almanac will afford you a fair idea as to what the book looks like. We believe it is the best veterinary book ever published to meet the needs of the average farmer, and will gladly mail a copy free of charge to those who believe it would be helpful to them and will write for it. Because Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser describes nearly all the diseases of horses and cattle so fully and clearly and may be had for the asking, we shall not take space in this almanac to describe even the diseases that our remedies are for. Instead, we shall describe very briefly the remedies themselves, and devote the major portion of available space to the publication of letters that will afford the reader a fair idea as to the kind of work they do.

Fleming's Almanac For 1915

In the 1915 issue of Fleming's Almanac the two distinguishing features of the calendar pages are retained. These are the breeders' tables and the moonlight characters.

The breeders' tables are intended merely to show the date upon which the period of gestation may be expected to end. For illustration, refer to the calendar for January and to the first day of that month. Following the line across the page, you come to four dates that appear in separate columns. These tell you that if the date of breeding were January first, a mare should foal on the following December 6th, a cow should calve on October 10th, a ewe should lamb on May 30th, and a sow should farrow on April 22d. Of course, there may be some variation in the time, one way or the other, but the dates given represent the average. The blank spaces at the extreme right are for names of animals or other brief memoranda.

The moonlight characters that appear in the third column from the left upon each calendar page, are not intended as pictures of the moon, or as any representation of the moon itself. Instead, you are to regard them as you would the face of a clock from which the hands have been removed. The lowest point of each circle means six o'clock P. M. of the date in connection with which it appears. From that point on around the circle in the direction that the hands of a clock move, represents the whole night, or the time from six o'clock in the evening until six o'clock the next morning. If the circle is all black, it means that there will be no moonlight that night. If it is all white, it means that there will be moonlight all night. If it is part white, it means that there will be moonlight during the hours indicated by the white portion of the circle when regarding it as a dial.

Important Announcement

This almanac brings to you the announcement of several important changes in our line of veterinary remedies.

We are adding to our line a new preparation that is intended to meet a more general need than is supplied by any one of the others; two of the old preparations are being discontinued; the names of six of the others are being changed, and the appearance of all the labels will hereafter be somewhat different owing to the adoption of a new trade-mark, the likeness of which you have already seen upon the cover of this almanac.

We have for a considerable time contemplated making these changes, but deferred doing so until now because we had on hand a large quantity of our principal booklet, Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser, and we wanted to wait until time for a new edition, which will shortly be ready to send out, and will be in conformity with the changes here announced.

If you have one of the old Advisers, however, it will serve as well as the new if you will just remember the new names, or write them down inside the back cover of the book, because the new one will be practically the same except for the difference in the names of the several old remedies, the adding of the new one, and the dropping out of the two that are now discontinued.

The following will explain just what each change is, so that there need be no misunderstanding or confusion.

The Trade-Mark

First, let us consider the new trade-mark, and the difference that it will produce in the appearance of the new labels. Some may not understand just what a trade-mark is for, or why we should want to have one, so it may be well to say something as to that.

A trade-mark is a device or design chosen by a manufacturer as a distinguishing mark by which his particular make of goods may be known, and the law protect him in its use. It is, therefore, a means of protection to the manufacturer, and also to purchasers, against deceptive imitations.

In 1896 Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure was first offered for sale. Perhaps you already know how it came about, as we have told it before. We had a ranch as a sort of side industry, and about 150 head of cattle upon it. Lump jaw became a serious matter with us, and our regular business being in the line of drugs and chemicals, we tried to compound a remedy that would cure the disease. At first no encouraging results were met with, but after considerable patient trying, we accomplished all that we had hoped for. We might say that we accomplished more than we had hoped for, because our original intention was merely to stop the loss in our own herd, but the remedy proved so successful, and so many other stock owners began to hear of it and want it, that we sold out ranch, cattle, drug business and all, and devoted all our attention to manufacturing and selling Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure.

When we first began selling the Lump Jaw Cure we had no thought that we would ever put out anything else in the way of a veterinary remedy, so as a trade-mark we selected the picture of the cow's head that you have likely seen upon the label of the bottle, but it was not very long until people began to write us saying that the Lump Jaw Cure was all right for lump jaw, but that they would like to have an equally satisfactory treatment for fistula and poll evil, and they wanted to know if we could not supply the needed. We took the matter up, and in due course of time Fleming's Fistula and Poll Evil Cure was ready, and if you do not already know how much of a success it has been, read the testimonials that appear in this almanac. As it would hardly be appropriate to use the cow's head trade-mark for this preparation, we adopted instead a picture showing the head, neck and withers of a horse.

We then thought that these two preparations would be all, and that no more trade-marks would be needed, but our line was further increased and the preparations added were put out without trade-marks other than the name "Fleming's."

The new trade-mark that we have now adopted for all the preparations is here shown just as it appears upon the labels, though there will be variations as to the size. It consists of an outline drawing of a typical farm barn in connection with the word "Fleming's," and may be regarded as meaning that the preparation upon the label of which it appears is the genuine Fleming Brothers' manufacture, and is for stable use. The old trade-marks, with slight modification in one of them, will be continued along with the barn trade-mark upon their respective preparations.

For a time we have been using our facsimile signature upon all the labels as a sort of distinguishing mark, but with the adoption of the barn trade-mark, it will be discontinued.

Druggists, including the wholesale drug houses from which retail druggists get their supplies, may for a time have in stock some of the remedies labeled in the old way, and you should not hesitate to accept them on that account, but from the time that we start mailing this almanac, all goods going out of our laboratory will bear the new labels.

The New Names

Eight years ago what is known as the Food and Drugs Act was passed by Congress. It is a law having to do with the purity and proper labeling of foods and drugs. Since then most of the states have passed laws of a similar character. All of these laws provide that a food, drug or medicine shall not be misbranded; that is, that it shall not be called what it is not. These laws have led to more or less controversy, particularly in some of the states, as to whether any remedy may properly be called a cure. Some claim that if it will cure a reasonable percentage of the cases, it is perfectly right to use the word "cure" in the name. Others claim that under the law such a name is improper, and that any remedy so named is misbranded unless it will cure absolutely every case upon which it may be tried. The result is that druggists in some of these states do not like to handle anything named a cure, because of the possibility that a charge might be brought against them for selling misbranded goods. Recently in one state the commissioner who has charge of the enforcement of the food and drugs law notified the druggists that he would not allow them to sell any patent medicine having the word "cure" in the name, so that some of the druggists wrote to us asking for special labels just for their state.

We do not know which side of the question is the right one, nor do we see that any good purpose is served by a hair-splitting contention of the kind, but we are absolutely sure that not one of our veterinary remedies will cure every case that is treated with it, and it is equally our belief that there isn't an infallible remedy or doctor in the world. Therefore, we have changed the names so that the druggists in all the states may handle our line if they want to, and may be free from any annoyance that might otherwise arise.

Aside from the change in names, the adoption of the new trade-mark, etc., there is another matter that we may as well mention. Following the passage of the Food and Drugs Act, it was required that every manufacturer of food or drug products should place a guarantee and serial number upon his labels. Ours read as follows: "Guaranteed by Fleming Bros., under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906. Serial number 3437." Recently it has been decided and ordered that all manufacturers must omit this guarantee legend from their labels by May 1, 1916. We are omitting it from ours now instead of waiting until the date mentioned. You understand, however, that this has nothing to do with our regular guarantee of satisfaction or money back, which remains in effect the same as heretofore.

Fleming's Actinoform

This is the new name for the preparation heretofore known as Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure. Actinoform is just a name that we made up out of parts of the two words "actinomycosis" and "formula." The real name for the disease that is commonly called lump jaw is actinomycosis. The remedy that we supply for it is made according to the formula that we worked out for curing the cattle on our own ranch years ago. Fleming's Actinoform may, therefore, be regarded as meaning Fleming's formula for actinomycosis, or lump jaw.

This explanation will make it an easier word for you to remember.

Fleming's Fistoform

This is the new name for Fleming's Fistula and Poll Evil Cure. Fistoform is another made-up word, to which may be given the implied meaning of Fleming's formula for fistula, which, of course, would include poll evil, because that disease is merely fistula upon the poll instead of upon the withers. The new name has at least one advantage, and that is that it is shorter than the old.

Fleming's Spavin Liquid

When we first put out this preparation, we called it Fleming's Spavin Cure, but we had also another remedy especially for old cases of bone spavin, ringbone and sidebone, called Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste. Some were not careful in ordering and would just write "Spavin Cure," even when it was the Paste that they wanted. Then we changed it to Fleming's Spavin Cure (Liquid), hoping that all would write either the word Liquid or Paste to clearly designate which was wanted. It helped some, but there has always been more or less confusion of the kind. We consider that the new name is an improvement, as it will tend to still more clearly distinguish the two preparations. The name of the Paste is not changed.

Fleming's Colic Mixture

This is the new name for Fleming's Colic Cure. The remedy itself is of course unchanged, and will cure as many cases regardless of what it is called.

Fleming's Sweeny Blister

This may be a better name than the old one, which was Fleming's Sweeny Cure, because some have written asking whether the remedy will blister, and now the name itself conveys the information.

Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders

From the old name of this preparation, Fleming's Tonic Heave Remedy, some got the impression that it was a liquid and came in a bottle. As it is put up in the form of powders, each powder being a dose, the new name is more descriptive, and for that reason preferable.

The New Preparation

The new preparation that we are now offering for the first time is Fleming's General Liniment. We consider it very superior to the liniments that are commonly sold, and it is for external use in cases of soreness in muscles or tendons, and for sprains, bruises, swellings, etc. Read what is said about it elsewhere in this almanac.

The Two Discontinued

One of the preparations that we have discontinued is Fleming's Knee-Sprung Cure. There never was a sufficient demand for it to make it worth while for us to carry it along, so now while making these general changes, we shall drop it altogether.

Another reason for discontinuing it is because Fleming's General Liniment will do practically the same work in the recent cases, and at less expense to the owner of the animal. The old preparation was recommended for recent and favorable cases only, and, therefore, will no longer be supplied.

The other one that is discontinued is Fleming's Chemical Hornstop. For this, too, there has been little demand, though we consider that it should have been used by all who prefer to have their calves grow up hornless. Aside from the small demand, there is another reason for dropping it, and that is that we have never been able to prepare it so that it would keep from one season to another. This was not only annoying to users, but also to druggists and to ourselves, so that it was unsatisfactory all around except in the nice work that it did before it had become too old.

Purchasing from Druggists

It may be well while we are explaining other things to say something upon this subject.

When we began business, and for quite a long time thereafter, it appeared impossible that druggists could ever handle our goods to advantage. The reason was that lump jaw, fistula, poll evil, etc., usually occur only in a scattering way, a case developing here and there. Many druggists might not have a call in a whole year, and of course, they could not be expected to keep a stock on hand for the mere chance of making a sale. It appeared that the only way around the difficulty was to have farmers send their orders direct to us, and that is the way the greater part of our business has been done.

During the last three or four years, however, the big wholesale drug houses, from which the retail druggists get their supplies, have been ordering from us in increasing quantities. This, of course, means that our remedies are becoming well known, and that people are asking for them at drug stores.

Though the growth in the volume of business done through the drug trade has been a surprise to us, and has shown that our estimate as to the possibilities was not entirely correct, we still believe that it will always be necessary for us to receive and fill orders direct from those who have cases to treat, and shall continue doing so as heretofore. However, if your druggist has our goods in stock, it will be all right for you to get your supplies from him. Some seem to prefer one plan, while others prefer the other. There is one point, however, that we wish to make clear: If you should ask your druggist for one of our remedies, and he should tell you that he hasn't it, but will order it for you, tell him to send the order to his wholesale house or jobber, and not to us. If he should send it to us, it would only mean delay, because we do not fill orders from retail druggists, but only from the strictly wholesale druggists or jobbers. That is a definite rule with us and is in accordance with the general custom in that regard. If your particular order is to be sent to us, send it yourself, accompanied by the correct remittance, and we will fill it the day it arrives or the day following, depending upon whether it reaches us in the morning or in the evening.

The new preparation, Fleming's General Liniment, is one that we think all druggists will have in stock before long, because it meets a general need. If you ask a druggist for it and he should not have it, do not take instead some other liniment, but tell him to order a supply from his jobber, because we consider that there is no other liniment so good, and as soon as people begin to know about it, there will be plenty of calls for it. People want the best liniment, just as they want the best there is to be had in other kinds of remedies.

Fair and Square Business

Our idea of a fair and square business transaction is an exchange of values whereby each party is benefited.

That is the sort of basis upon which we try to do business.

We do not want to profit upon any man's loss.

We do not want to make a sale except to the advantage of the person who buys.

Unless a man has or is likely to have actual need for the goods we supply, we do not want him to buy them.

We recommend our remedies for only those uses in which they may, with reasonable certainty, be expected to give satisfaction, and in which we believe they afford the best possible means to the desired result.

There never was a remedy so good that it could not fail.

There never was a doctor so competent that he cured every patient that he tried to cure.

But some remedies are good enough and some doctors are competent enough that they cure usually and fail only occasionally.

That is the way it is with Fleming's Remedies. In no case can we tell you to a positive certainty that the remedy we have for it will surely cure.

But there is something we can do to offset the element of uncertainty that is always present—we can insure you your money's worth or your money back.

For nineteen years Fleming's Remedies have been sold under such a guarantee. They are good goods, or we couldn't stand up under such a business policy.

By virtue of these two factors, exceptionally good goods and an equally good guarantee, we are enabled to do business in close accord with our idea already expressed as to what fair and square business is and must always be.

Our Guarantee And What It Means

If any one of Fleming's Remedies doesn't do what we say it will do, we will refund to you its price, you to be the judge and your word to go.

That is our guarantee. It means that our remedies are to make good the claims that we make for them in our Veterinary Adviser and other printed matter, or, failing to do so, we are to refund your money. It leaves the decision to the customer, and we trust you to be as fair with us as we are disposed to be with you. It does not mean, however, that one bottle or package must always be enough for the case. This is particularly true with regard to the Fistoform and the Tonic Heave Powders. Read what is said further on in this almanac about the different preparations, and we think you will understand how the guarantee should apply to each.

If any case proves obstinate, write us the full particulars about it before either persevering too far or abandoning the treatment, and if we can make any suggestions that may prove helpful, we shall be pleased to do so. When nothing is heard from the customer within a year, we regard the guarantee as having expired by lapse of time.

We Send Full Directions

Fleming's Remedies are all easy to use, and this in spite of the fact that the principal ones are for diseases of a formidable character.

No one need hesitate through fear that because he lacks experience he will be unable to conduct the treatment properly.

Directions that make everything plain are sent with every bottle or package.

Of course, we do not mean that in any instance the work is so simple that you can disregard the directions and treat in an altogether careless manner, and still get the result you are after.

The first thing to do is to read the directions carefully, and several times over, if necessary, and make sure that you understand just how it is to be done, then it will be easy to do it just that way.

What you read in the direction sheet is meant in just as full a sense as though you were reading it in a letter that we had written you.

As you read the testimonials you will see how easy it was for the writers by the use of Fleming's Remedies, to cure some of the worst cases of these very bad diseases.

Remember the Spavins, Ringbones and Fistulas

If you have a horse with spavin, ringbone, fistula or poll evil, you know that he isn't going to amount to much until he is cured, and now is the time to do the very best you can to fix him up. One doesn't know just how much time such cases may require, so it is best to make the start good and early.

Actinoform

Per bottle, $2. See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

Sent prepaid on receipt of amount.

As we have already told you, the old name of this preparation was Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure. Forget the old name and remember the new, but do not forget the work that it has been doing for nineteen years.

Fleming's Actinoform is for actinomycosis in cattle in its most common manifestation known as lump jaw. It is the one remedy for this disease that has stood the practical test and attained a large sale, and is the oldest preparation of its kind upon the market.

Lump jaw begins as a small hard lump, usually moveable under the skin, but sometimes fast to the jaw bone. It occurs upon either the upper or lower jaw, but most frequently the lower, and sometimes back of the angle of the lower jaw below the ear. It increases in size, then softens, breaks and discharges a thick, stringy pus of a yellowish color. This drawing may afford you some idea as to what an advanced case looks like.

Lump jaw does not get well of its own accord. You have to cure it, and if you have a case, we believe that Fleming's Actinoform affords the best chance there is to cure it. Each package contains directions that are plain and easy to follow, and we agree to refund the amount you paid if you buy and use Fleming's Actinoform and fail to effect a cure.

Note: The testimonials here printed differ from the original letters in that the old name, Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure, is changed to Fleming's Actinoform, the new name for the same preparation.

Five Years Old.

Dear Sirs:—About a year and a half ago I asked you if you thought that the Actinoform that I had kept on hand about five years was all right yet. You answered and said to try. The trial was enough, for it cured the case.—Stephen Krogmeier, Ft. Madison, Iowa.

Used to Consider Them Lost.

Gentlemen:—Please find enclosed money order for $2, for which send me one bottle of Fleming's Actinoform. I find your remedies perfectly reliable. I used to consider that a cow that had lumpy jaw was as good as lost, but since I have been using your remedy I feel perfectly safe because it is an absolute cure. I have cured three in my herd and they have stayed cured.—Wm. J. Phillips, Box 232, Florence, Colo.

$35 In His Pocket.

Gentlemen:—I have one bottle of Actinoform from you, and I think it is the best out. I had one heifer that had lump jaw, and I could not sell her at all. One application cured her, and $35 was in my pocket.—Frank Oliverins, Galatia, Kansas.

Not Worth a Dollar.

Dear Sirs:—I wish to say a word about your Actinoform for lump jaw. I think it has no equal, as I cured a cow with it that the neighbors said was not worth a dollar.—O. B. Marlatt, Cameron, N. Y.

Bottle Cured Six.

Dear Sirs:—I bought one bottle of Fleming's Actinoform, and I cured six head of cattle with it. One of them I thought was worthless before I began to use it.—Flavel H. Gartsell, New Philadelphia, Ohio, Star Route.

Saved Ten Cows.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me one bottle of Fleming's Actinoform. I have been using this and I can tell all my friends how good it is. I have used it and saved ten cows. I do not want anything better for lump jaw.—Antone Enos, San Gregorio, Calif.

Cured for Himself and Neighbor.

Gentlemen:—Please find enclosed $2 for one bottle of Fleming's Actinoform. We had a bottle of it and cured a couple of bad cases, and then loaned the balance to a neighbor and he cured his cow.—John J. Lasher, Letcher, S. D.

Three Bad Cases.

Dear Sirs:—About two years ago I got a bottle of your Actinoform and I cured three bad cases with it and only used half of the bottle, but the bottle has got mislaid and I must have another. Please find enclosed $2. I have full faith in using your Actinoform.—J. M. Pryde, Biggs, Calif., Box 247.

Didn't Use One-Fourth.

Gentlemen:—Find enclosed $3, for which you will please send me at once three boxes of Tonic Heave Powders. Your Actinoform cured the cow that I ordered it for and I didn't use one-fourth of the bottle.—D. A. Copeland, Marting, W. Va.

Advised to Kill Her.

Sirs:—A year ago this summer I was at Ayr, Nebr., and had a fine red cow with lump jaw. The vet there said to kill her. I sent to you for a bottle of your remedy and two applications cured her, and she is my best cow today.—F. E. Scott, Delano, Minn., R. 2.

Saved About $50.

Gentlemen:—I got a bottle of Fleming's Actinoform last spring and used it on a Holstein heifer which had a bad case of lump jaw. It cured it with two applications, saving me about $50. I shall keep some on hand.—Geo. I. Brown, Elburn, Ill., R. 2.

Just The Stuff.

Dear Sirs:—I got a bottle of Fleming's Actinoform and it sure was and is just the stuff to cure the lump jaw. I had five head of cattle which had the lump jaw and I cured every one in three weeks' time. I sure think it is the best medicine I ever used. My friends and neighbors were surprised the way I cured my cattle, and I told them I used Fleming's Actinoform and that sure cured them all.—Geo. Forbeck, Old Monroe, Mo., R. 1, Box 61.

Checks Not Worth Face Value

We ask our customers to send some form of remittance other than a personal check whenever possible. Every bank in Chicago takes a discount out of checks drawn on banks outside of Chicago. Some send us checks for amounts as small as fifty cents, and the bank takes ten cents even out of so small a check as that. The best way is to send a Post Office or Express Money Order, but if you must send a check, remember that it will be discounted at least ten cents, so add ten cents to the amount of the check to cover that expense.

Cured A Severe Case.

Gentlemen:—Kindly send, as soon as possible, your Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders. We purchased a bottle of Fleming's Actinoform last October and it cured a severe case of lump jaw.—Sister Mary James, St. Xavier's Academy, Beatty, Pa.

Enough For Four.

Dear Sirs:—Please find enclosed $2, and send two packages of Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders. Your Actinoform is O. K. I cured two good cows with one bottle and enough is left to cure two more.—John Schimmer, Custer, Okla., R. 1, Box 10.

Saved $500.

Dear Sirs:—We are still treating lump jaw on our cattle with Fleming's Actinoform. We have cured ten cases and have two cases not quite cured yet, but they are getting better. Your medicine does what you say it will do. We thank you a thousand times for the medicine. We are using the third bottle now and the two bottles already used have saved us $500.—Boesen Bros., St. Thomas, Mo.

Three Bad Cases.

Gentlemen:—Your Actinoform has been worth many dollars to me, as I have cured three animals of bad cases of lump jaw, and I shall not fail to recommend it very highly to my friends.—A. H. Clemens, Peetz, Colo.

$50 Saved.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me your Vest Pocket Veterinary Adviser and prices of your different remedies. I have seen your Actinoform used on a neighbor's cow here and it worked like magic. It was only used once, according to directions, and it cured the cow sound and well. The cow was valued at $50, so it saved him that amount. Send prices of all your different remedies that you manufacture, and oblige, D. T. Potts, Mercers Bottom, W. Va., R. 1.

Cured An Old Case.

Gentlemen:—I sent to you last winter and got a bottle of Fleming's Actinoform, and it proved a success on a steer that had lump jaw a long time. Some advised me to kill and bury him, but one of my neighbors had got one of your little books, and he wanted me to send for your Actinoform and try it. I did, and it was a success.—W. H. Dennis, Weston, Ohio, R. 1.

Cured Five.

Dear Sirs:—We got a bottle of Fleming's Actinoform from you and it cured five cows, and I think it would cure more, but what was left has evaporated so that it is not so strong. Mother owns the cows.—Norman A. Kniffen, Ulster, Pa.

Worked Well For The Doctor.

Gentlemen:—About five years ago I bought one bottle of Fleming's Actinoform and used it at that time on a very bad case doing splendid work. Now I am enclosing $2 for another bottle. I have a few very bad cases and will give it another trial.—Dr. J. S. Funston, V. S., Amber-son's Valley, Pa.

Made Five Applications.

Dear Sirs:—Having received your Farm and Live Stock Almanac I am reminded that I did not write you concerning the Actinoform that I ordered in the spring. I applied it five times and the lump was gone. I can't praise it too highly. You can use this as a testimony if you like.—Eliza Davenport, Epworth, Ky.

Fistoform

Per bottle, $2. See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

Sent prepaid on receipt of amount.

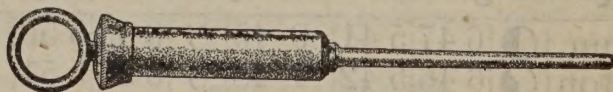

Read the testimonials about this preparation, then ask yourself whether you ever heard of anything in the way of a medicine more wonderfully successful. If you are familiar with fistula and poll evil, and know how ugly they are and how hard they usually are to cure by ordinary methods, we think you will agree that nothing else has ever produced such results. According to what we believe to be a conservative estimate, Fleming's Fistoform has for years been curing an average of ten thousand horses annually.

Of course, we do not want you to think that it will invariably do as well as these letters state, but you may with a reasonable degree of certainty expect it to do as well for you, because the failures reported to us are less than five per cent. of the cases treated.

We guarantee this treatment, but do not guarantee that one bottle will always be enough for a case, though by reading the testimonials, you will see that in a large majority of the cases no more than one bottle is needed, and sometimes a bottle is enough for several. Give it a fair chance, persevering with the treatment somewhat if necessary, and if it does not prove successful, you get your money back. It is easy to use, being applied only every fifth day and lightly at that, and the directions tell you just how to do it.

Fleming's Fistoform is also recommended and guaranteed for thrush and quittor. Read what is said about all these diseases in the Veterinary Adviser.

Fleming's Fistula Syringe

Complete Syringe, by mail, 50 cents.
Extra Nozzles, each - 20 cents.

This syringe is very helpful in applying Fleming's Fistoform after a case has broken and is discharging. Ordinary syringes are so large as to be wasteful, or else the injection pipe is too short to be of any use. These syringes are made especially for the purpose, and are constructed of hard rubber. We would not advise using a metal syringe. The capacity is small so that you can handle small quantities with it, and the nozzle or injection pipe is three inches in length. These are detachable

How Are Your Horses This Spring?

As a general tonic and alterative or blood purifier for horses we do not know of anything to equal Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders. Just now there are more farm horses needing a tonic than at any other time of the year, and the work season isn't far ahead, even for the northern parts of the country. Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders are especially helpful when a horse is thin, hide-bound and the hair doesn't shed as it should. Your money back if they fail to give satisfaction. :: :: :: :: ::

Nothing Better in Thirty Years.

Gentlemen:—I doctor a great deal of stock for miles around where I live, and I find a lot of your remedies have no equal. I have been treating fistula for thirty years, but have never found anything better than your Fistoform.—C. H. Priestester, Ft. Deposit, Ala., R. 2.

Twenty-five Cases.

Dear Sirs:—As I have never taken the time to write in regard to my experience with your remedies, will say that I have used the following with success: Fleming's Fistoform, Spavin and Ringbone Paste, Colic Mixture, Tonic Heave Powders, Spavin Liquid, and Veterinary Eye Lotion—all giving perfect satisfaction. I have cured and known of twenty-five cases of fistula being cured, and just one failure, and have always believed that the man got smart and poisoned that one with arsenic. Now the result is that I have gotten my name up as a horse doctor. I got a letter, the other day, from a man in the lower part of the county, stating that he had been informed that I was a dead shot on fistula, and wanted to know if I cut the fistula out or burned it out and what I would charge him to cure his horse. I wrote him that he could cure him just as well as I could and gave him your address, telling him to send $2 and he would receive a little bottle of medicine that would do the work.—John R. Atkins, Gleason, Tenn.

Wouldn't Give Five Cents.

Gentlemen:—I have a horse that had fistula two years ago. I used less than one bottle of Fleming's Fistoform and cured him. My neighbors said they would not give me five cents for him and even told me to take him out to some old field and kill him, and now he is sound and well and I would not take $150 for him. Your Fistoform will do all you claim for it.—E. C. Church, Speers Ferry, Va., R. 1.

Gave His Horse Away.

Dear Sirs:—About eighteen months ago one of my neighbors had a mare that he had doctored for twelve months for fistula, and her withers were swollen as large as a peck bucket and had five or six openings. The pus would run down her shoulders and forelegs and drop on the ground. He had done all he could for her and nothing did her any good, so he turned her out to die. I saw an advertisement of your great remedy with a guarantee to cure or money refunded. I told him about it and tried to get him to give it a trial. He said no, he had done all he could and failed and she would soon die anyway; all the doctoring in the world could not save her. I told him the cost was but little and if he did not care I would try one bottle myself for an experiment. He said all right I could have the mare if I wanted her, but all I spent would be lost. So I sent to you for one bottle and when it was gone I sent for more. She had improved so I thought she would soon be well, so I ordered another one. I used about one-half of the third bottle and cured her sound and well, and there is not a sign of fistula, not a scar or blemish left. She works and rides as good as ever, is in fine order and is one of our first-class brood mares. So I will say that your remedy cannot be too highly praised and recommended, for it is worth more than its weight in gold. With many thanks to you and best wishes for your success in these grand remedies, I remain, C. H. Peters, Allen, Ky.

Cured Sixteen.

Dear Sirs:—I will say for your consolation that I have cured sixteen cases of poll evil and fistula and have not failed in a single case that I have treated. The bottle of Fistoform that I am now ordering goes to E. Hardin, Paris, Tenn., R. 5. He lives twenty miles from me.—S. B. Shankle, Cottage Grove, Tenn.

Like a Charm.

Gentlemen:—Last February I sent to you for a bottle of Fleming's Fistoform and am very glad to say that it worked like a charm. I had a horse suffering with this disease. I used it as directed and it cured him in a very short time. I don't think I used it over four or five times when the horse was entirely well, and I cannot speak too highly of it.—L. S. Eddins, Sec. and Mgr., Zemo Chemical Co., Sedalia, Mo.

Waited Three Years To Use It.

Gentlemen:—I was just thinking what your great remedy, Fistoform, has done for me. Three years ago last August I had a driving mare that had the poll evil. I sent to you for a $2 bottle of your remedy, and after I got it I was afraid to use it, so I took her 35 miles to a veterinarian. He said he would cure her for $20. He told me he would guarantee a cure, so I paid him, and he operated on the mare. He kept her ten days, and I went to see the mare. He told me I could take her home with me, and I took her home, and I had to take her back three times. I telephoned him about her and he told me to bring her back again and he would cure her if he had to cut her head off. Now this veterinarian treated her for two years and I got tired of him, and I took her to another veterinarian, and he said he would cure her for $5, or no pay. He kept her for six months and he told me to come and get her, for he could not cure her, so I went and brought her home and I thought she would die. I told my boys we would try the medicine we got from Fleming Bros. almost three years before. Well, we went and washed the mare's head, then we took the syringe and treated her, and I will tell you that two doses cured her. I would be glad to recommend this medicine to anybody. I am writing this letter for the purpose of helping some one, and will say that you can cure any poll evil yourself with Fleming's Fistoform.—F. M. Gladson, P. M., Cooper, Nebr.

Couldn't Sell For $10.

Dear Sirs:—It has been some time since I sent for a bottle of Fleming's Fistoform. I received it O. K. and it did the work great. One of our best veterinarians doctored my mare for about eleven months and at the end of that time the case was as bad as when he began. Your medicine did the work in about one month. I offered the mare for $10 to get rid of her, but now $100 would not buy her. About one-fourth of the bottle did the work. Use this if it will help in any way. I will speak a good word for your medicine in my neighborhood.—Frank Cornett, Neodesha, Kansas, R. 4.

Worth $5 a Bottle.

Gentlemen:—I see you advertise a Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser free. I ask you to send it to me. I am a stranger to you, but I am a friend of your remedies. I cured one of the worst cases of fistula on a fine mule I owned and can say that your Fistoform is worth $5 a bottle. I am a home-made veterinarian and want your book.—J. W. McCleish, Gum Springs, Ark.

Two Operations Failed.

Dear Sirs:—I have used Fleming's Fistoform and I find it what you recommend it to be. I owned a mule worth $200 that had fistula. The veterinary told me that no remedy would cure it but the knife, and he cut around on him two different times, but failed to cure him. I used about one-half of a bottle of your Fistoform and it cured him. Please send me your Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser.—R. M. Herring, Jasper, Ala., R. 4.

Don't Sweeny Your Young Horses

Sweeny is most likely to develop in young horses that are starting in on their first season's work. Make sure that the collar fits properly, and remember that a green colt should not be expected to do the work of a seasoned horse. Plowing in stumpy or stony ground produces a good many cases of sweeny. No matter how careful you are, sweeny will sometimes show up, both in colts and older horses, without there being any apparent reason for it. Your money back if Fleming's Sweeny Blister should fail. :: ::

Was Applying Too Freely.

Gentlemen:—Find enclosed $1 for which send me one bottle of your Sweeny Blister. The mare that had the poll evil is all right again. I certainly was surprised to see what your medicine did do. In all I ordered three bottles of Fistoform. When the second bottle was almost half gone I ordered the third, and at that time it seemed to be getting worse and I told you about it. You wrote me that I was using entirely too much and also told me to let it go for about ten days before treating again. This I did, and only had to treat it about two times after that. Now it is all healed up in good shape, and I used only a bottle and a half.—Ed Miller, Crelton, Ohio.

Doctor Said He Couldn't.

Gentlemen:—I bought a mare with a fistula on both sides of her withers. A veterinarian said that I could not cure it in a lifetime, but I doctored it two months and it is cured and the mare is fat. When I got her she was as poor as a crow.—Frank Cook, Syracuse, Kansas.

Now Worth $200.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me one bottle of Spavin Liquid for the $2 enclosed. I want to say that your Fistoform did its work and that it is a wonder worker. I now have a mare that I can get $200 for whenever I will take it, but she is not for sale. At one time she did not look to me to be worth $10. Two bottles of Fleming's Fistoform did the work. You may use this as a reference if you choose so to do.—Geo. W. Ell, Groveport, Ohio.

Won't Bother With Others.

Gentlemen:—I am writing you in regard to your Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser. I lost the one I had and cannot do without it, so would you please send me another. Your Fistoform can't be beat. We had a horse that had a fistula last summer. We had our home veterinarian to treat him nearly all summer without doing any good. One of our neighbors had a little better than half a bottle of your Fistoform. We got it and in less than six weeks we could work the horse. We will never bother with any remedies other than yours.—Hugo Fuhs, Turtle Lake, Wis., R. 1.

Book and Remedies Helpful.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me two more copies of your Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser. I gave away both copies that you recently sent me. There is no veterinary surgeon nearer than 25 miles, and the information contained in these Advisers has helped a number. Your Fistoform worked a wonderful cure on a very valuable horse of mine, and it is permanent. The best veterinarian within fifty miles failed and your remedy cured. It is now two years and not a blemish to be seen. This summer I cured another horse which had a bad wound in his leg, being caught with a hook on a chain. I treated it with your Healing Oil.—N. S. Thomas, Central Square, N. Y., R. 3.

Failed But Once.

Dear Sirs:—I will say that I am in veterinary practice and that you have got some of the best remedies I have ever found. I could hardly make out without some of them, especially your Fistoform. I never have lost but one case of fistula since I have been using it, and the horse died of blood poisoning.—Dr. G. W. Slayton, Walnut Ridge, Ark., R. 2, Box 65.

Had Both Diseases.

Dear Sirs:—About two years ago I had a horse that had both fistula and poll evil. I treated him as a veterinary advised us, but it didn't help him. He commenced to run down and was awful poor and I thought I would have to kill him, then I saw your advertisement and I sent for a bottle of Fleming's Fistoform. One bottle did not cure him, so I sent for another and that cured him and he has been cured ever since. I thought I would wait and see if it broke out again, but it didn't. It certainly is fine stuff.—Griff H. Roberts, Morrisville, N. Y., R. 2.

Spent About $60.

Gentlemen:—Six years ago this winter I had a horse that had poll evil and I tried for nearly a year to cure this horse. Three different veterinarians worked on him and charged not less than $15 to $20 each time. Altogether it cost me something like $60 and the horse got worse every day. I heard of Fleming's Fistoform and I sent for a $2 bottle. I used half of it and the horse was sound and well in six weeks, and I had enough left to cure a horse for my neighbor. Since that time I have all faith in the world in your remedies.—John W. Moreland, Hardin, Mont.

Bottle Cured Six.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me one of your Veterinary Advisers. I have used Fleming's Fistoform and find that it is a sure cure. I have cured five fistulas and one poll evil with one $2 bottle.—James Bertoch, Morgan, Utah, R. 1.

Told To Kill Her.

Gentlemen:—The bottle of Fleming's Fistoform that I ordered from you last summer cured my mare after three veterinarians had failed. She had fistula for sixteen months and was not able to work for fourteen months. Some tried to get me to kill her, but I decided to try your medicine first. She got well, and I used only about one-third of the bottle. She raised me a fine mule colt. A friend of mine had a mare that had poll evil four years, and less than two bottles cured that case. I cannot say too much for this medicine, and you can publish this letter if you like.—W. S. Cox, Forrester, Tex., R. 1, Box 42.

Four Applications Cured Bad Case.

Dear Sirs:—I enclose $2. for which send me one bottle of Fleming's Actinoform. I have used your Fistoform on a five-year-old mare. Four applications cured a fistula that veterinarians had doctored for a year without helping.—S. H. Bratten, Beaver Meadows Farm, Jefferson, Ohio, R. 3.

Cured Two.

Gentlemen:—I cured two horses with one bottle of your Fistoform. One horse had fistula on both sides and it was a bad case. The other one had it on the one side. After curing both, I had some of the remedy left in the bottle. You can use this letter if you want to.—J. H. Harker, Hollidaysburg, Pa., R. 1.

Neck Flat On Top.

Dear Sirs:—Your Fistoform has cured my horse O. K. I truly believe it will cure any case on earth. I have worked my horse all summer every day in team. I am sure no horse ever had it any worse than mine. It left his neck as flat on top as your hand, for it had been all eaten off before I used your remedy. I thank you that he is well.—Corey E. Henman, Piqua, Ohio, R. 6.

Worst He Ever Saw.

Gentlemen:—I wish to give you my testimony on your wonderful Fistoform. I had a mare that took the fistula and it was the worst case I ever saw. I opened one side of her shoulders with the knife. Four treatments cured the side that I did not open, but it took some time to cure the side that I opened. The one bottle cured my mare sound and well. This was in the fall of 1912 that I cured this mare, and I have put her at all kinds of work and she is as sound as any horse. You can't tell that she has had fistula, so I wish to thank you for your wonderful remedy.—John L. Porter, Brewster, Va.

Required Two Bottles.

Dear Sirs:—I ordered three bottles of Fleming's Fistoform some time ago. Two bottles

It is Worth While to Try

It may be that you have a case of fistula that you think is too bad to ever be cured. Perhaps it has been doctored a long time by the ordinary methods, and you have been told to shoot the horse. Don't do it until you have tried Fleming's Fistoform. Hundreds of just such cases have been cured with it, and it likely will cure yours. It doesn't cost much, and if it fails it doesn't cost you anything, because in that event we send the money back. It may prove obstinate, and may take several bottles, but that's nothing, considering what the horse will be worth if you cure him.

cured the mare, so I haven't used any of the third bottle on her, but I have a horse that took the poll evil the worst kind, and two applications of the third bottle cured him. Your medicine does all you claim.—M. S. Allen, Enfield, Ill.

Doctor Cured Three.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find order for two bottles of Fleming's Fistoform. I got a bottle of this about a year ago and cured three cases with the one bottle. Please send at once, as I now have three cases on hand.—Dr. R. Williamson, Barada, Nebr.

Cured "Daisy Autograph."

Gentlemen:—I am writing to let you know what Fleming's Fistoform did for my mare, Daisy Autograph, who was very ill with fistula for two years—a very bad case, the doctor said. I used it faithfully as per directions and at times was tempted to give it up, it was such a disgusting sore to care for, but gradually it began to discharge less and less and the sore healed. That was one year ago last November and no return of the disease during this time. It is all you claim it to be, and I should otherwise have lost a very valuable and speedy animal.—Sumner I. Perry, Peterboro, N. H.

Wouldn't Give 50 Cents.

Gentlemen:—The Fleming's Fistoform that I got from you cured my mare with poll evil with two applications. One horseman who looked at her said she would never be worth anything again and that he would not give me 50 cents for her. Now she is as sound as she ever was as far as I can tell.—A. Leach, Chase City, Va.

Bad Quittor.

Dear Sirs:—The bottle of Fistoform and the fistula syringe, with full directions how to use it on my son's mare, was duly received. We made the first application on July 4, 1913, and altogether we used it only four times when all the wounds quit discharging and healed up and the lameness had nearly all gone. On the 22d of July, a little over two weeks from the time we gave the first treatment, my son hitched her up in the mowing machine by the side of her mate, and cut our grass, and he has been using her doing light work on the farm ever since, and you can scarcely notice that she is a bit lame now. When we commenced she had three holes on the top of her hoof, just where the hair comes to the top of the hoof, discharging very freely indeed and she was very lame, hobbling around on three legs, but I tell you she uses the fourth leg now. My son says he doesn't think he used quite one-third of the bottle. This mare had been laid up since Nov. 15, 1912.—E. Rogers, Ivanhoe, Va., Box 84.

What Can Beat It?

Gentlemen:—Well, I have tried your Fistoform and found it all right. I cured my horse and four of my neighbors' horses with one bottle, and if any medicine can beat that I would like to hear from it.—P. S. Snyder, Columbus, Ind., R. 4.

Would Have Taken $15.

Gentlemen:—That Fistoform remedy I used on my horse four years ago proved satisfactory, and today I would not take $200 for him. I think it a great thing. Before using I would have taken as low as $15 for him.—G. L. Niebch, Morganville, N. Y., R. 29.

Sound For Ten Years.

Dear Sirs:—I have a mule that had fistula ten years ago, and I cured her with your remedy. She had a bad case of the fistula and if she had not been cured she would not have been any good, although about eight months before she took the disease I had paid $150 for her. She has never had any symptom of the disease returning, and I work her to log wagons and all other hard work on the road. She stays fat and in fine condition all the time.—E. E. Stevens, General Merchandise, Rushing, Ark.

Successful in Every Case.

Dear Sirs:—I have used several bottles of your Fistoform and have been successful in every case. It really works like magic.—Laurence S. Johnson, Milford, Ill.

Can't Tell They Had It.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me one bottle of Fleming's Fistoform and also the Fistula Syringe. You will find enclosed money order for $2.50. Please send at once. It is the best ever put on the market. I have cured several horses, and you cannot tell that they had it.—C. W. Fisher, Lewistown, Md.

Refused $225.

Gentlemen:—Please send me your Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser. My father had a mule with the fistula and he used your Fistoform. He applied it only twice. The mule is cured and he has been offered $225 for her. We find the medicine to be all you claim it to be and more.—Earl Reser, Urbana, Mo., Route 1.

Cured 100.

Gentlemen:—I have been using your remedies for more years than I can accurately state. I have cured more than 100 cases of fistula and poll evil, and have also made a good many spavined horses forget to limp.—J. A. Wharton, Mercer, Tenn.

Note:—Mr. Spain wrote the following letter to the publisher of the American Breeder, having seen in that paper something about the treatment of fistula and poll evil. A copy of the letter was sent to us, but without giving the writer's postoffice address. Looking up our records we find that Mr. Spain sent us an order from North Powder, Ore.

To the American Breeder:—I see a question in your March 5 issue asking for a remedy for fistula and poll evil. You advise an operation, and for humanity's sake, I must ask you to tell the writer my experience. I had a fine young work mare with poll evil and it was surely bad. I cured it entirely and have used her now for seven years and she has raised me a colt every year.

I used one bottle of Fleming's Fistoform," price, $2, and the syringe to go with it, cost, I think, 50 cents. I know this will cure either of these diseases without the agony of an operation. The firm's address is, Fleming Bros., Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill. A post card will bring a valuable vest-pocket Veterinary Adviser. Pity for the horse has prompted me to write you.—A. S. Spain, Union County, Ore.

Note: The following testimonial was not written to us, but to the American Agriculturist, published in New York City, and they then sent it to us.

American Agriculturist, New York, N. Y.

Messrs.:—I just noticed an inquiry in your paper about fistula, by Mr. M. E. of New Jersey. About a year ago I had a horse which had what I believe was as bad a case of fistula as there could be. The swelling on the left side was certainly as large as a two-quart basin and the one on the right side was about half that size. Just as soon as the bunches got soft I opened them and sent and got what is known as Fleming's Fistoform. The horse worked every day, and now he is just as sound as he ever was. He is sound enough so I was offered $250 for him a short time ago. I will give you the address and if Mr. M. E. will send and get the medicine and use it according to the directions I think he can cure it without any trouble. The address is: Fleming Bros., Chemists, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.—Respectfully yours, C. W. Gibbons, Russell, N. Y.

P. S.—The medicine will cost him $2 and the syringe to use it will cost 50 cents more.

Heaves May Be Worse Now

Some horses with heaves are able to do a pretty good day's work until the hot weather comes on, then they can't stand it and have to be laid off. If you have a case that acts in that way, use Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders and you will likely find that the horse can work in comfort the summer through. Likely, too, the heaving will disappear completely; but, if not, the benefit derived and the extra work the horse is able to do will be worth many times the cost—otherwise, your money back. :: :: ::

Spavin and Ringbone Paste

Per bottle, $2. See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

Sent prepaid on receipt of amount.

Our having two entirely distinct and different remedies for the treatment of blemishes appears to be confusing to some.

But it need not be confusing if one will but remember that the Spavin and Ringbone Paste is used only for the well defined cases of Bone Spavin, Ringbone and Sidebone attended by marked lameness.

It is intended to overcome the lameness, and it usually does it, no matter how old the case or what else has failed.

We do not claim that it will take off the enlargement or improve the appearance of the part in any way. There will likely be a small scar where the Paste was applied, but a scar is better than lameness.

Do not try to treat the horse and work him at the same time. He must have rest in the stable, and the usual time required is about six weeks.

When you catch a Bone Spavin, Ringbone or Sidebone just coming on, and especially if the horse is young and you wish to avoid a scar, use Fleming's Spavin Liquid, but do not use the Liquid upon an old or well developed case of the kind and expect us to guarantee it to do the work.

Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste is guaranteed. We refund the money if it doesn't remove the lameness. Nothing need be said here as to its merit—that is told by the letters that follow.

For information concerning the different kinds of blemishes and different forms of lameness, see Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser.

Had Been Fired.

Dear Sirs:—Please send to Joseph Plumbeck one of your Vest-Pocket Veterinary Advisers. He is a large stock owner and asked me to get the book for him. I gave him what I had left of the bottle of Spavin and Ringbone Paste after I had cured a bad ringbone on one of my horses and a bone spavin on one of my neighbor's horses. The spavin had been fired, which did no good, but the Paste did the work.—Thomas Vincent, Millard, Nebr., R. 1, Box 17.

Now Worth $200.

Dear Sirs:—I have used your Spavin and Ringbone Paste and find it just what you claim it to be. I had my mule fired, but it did not do any good. I used your Paste only once and it cured him. He is a fine six-year-old and I gave only $92.50 for him. Since I have cured him I have been offered $150, but I would not take less than $200.—C. V. Williamson, Back Bay, Va.

Would Have Been Loser.

Gentlemen:—Three years ago I had a horse that had a big bone spavin on each hind leg and he could hardly get up. If it hadn't been for the use of Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste I would have been the loser. It acted just as you recommended it, and after this long time I want to thank you.—Sam Darnell, Monday, Ohio.

Hasn't Limped Since.

Dear Sirs:—I had a four-year-old mare three years ago that had a bone spavin. —I got your Spavin and Ringbone Paste and gave her one treatment and she has never limped since. Before, she could hardly get out of the barn. This spavin case was an old case. She must have had it two years, but now she is as good as ever.—John Knutzen, Ute, Iowa.

Couldn't Use Him.

Dear Sirs:—About five years ago I had a horse with bone spavin. Experienced veterinarians had examined and treated him, but without success. After he had been lame for many months and I could not use him at all, I was advised to try your Spavin and Ringbone Paste, and one application completely cured him. I cheerfully recommend your medicines.—J. L. Beverly, Sweet Water, Ala.

Refused $300.

Gentlemen:—I will tell you what your Spavin and Ringbone Paste did for me. Four years ago last spring I had a fine three-year-old mare that had a bone spavin on her. I used one dose on her and have been working her ever since. I was offered $300 for her last spring.—Chris Lundby, Woodbine, Iowa.

Thought Him Crippled For Life.

Dear Sirs:—Some three years ago I ordered a bottle of your Spavin and Ringbone Paste and have cured three cases of spavin, one of them very bad, and cannot praise it too highly. It made a cure on a fine mule for me that I had given up as a cripple for life, as I had tried so many other remedies and failed.—Jud Shotts, Frederick, Okla., R. 6, Box 49.

Said It Couldn't Be Done.

Dear Sirs:—I sent to you two years ago for some of your Spavin and Ringbone Paste, and I must say that it is more than you say it is. It killed two of the largest bone spavins I ever saw. Everybody said it was a hopeless case. A veterinarian had given it up after firing twice. They all said it couldn't be done. I have also killed four other spavins and one ringbone and have enough left for more.—Harry Sylvester, Akron, Mich., R. 4.

Going The Rounds.

Gentlemen:—A couple of years ago I purchased a box or bottle of your Spavin and Ringbone Paste to use on a horse that I purchased without knowing that a ringbone had started. It grew larger and larger and the horse finally became quite lame every time I worked him. I saw your ad in which you guaranteed the Paste to cure or money back. Well, that guarantee was what induced me to purchase the Paste. In using it I followed directions absolutely, and in proper time the horse had no lameness no matter how hard I worked him. The enlargement was not reduced much, but the ringbone was killed. Of course, I circulated the news in my immediate neighborhood. A man living several miles from me that I had never met, asked me about this remedy. He asked me if I had any left and if so he would be glad to get it, as he had two horses badly affected by ringbone and sidebone. I let him have the bottle for $1. I met him afterwards and he said that he cured both horses and that it was worth $100 to him, but he let another man have what was left for $1. He said this third man cured his horse with it, and possibly it was still going the rounds acting the good Samaritan. Now these are absolute facts.—George McPherson, Ruhl, Idaho, R. 3.

The Thing Most Likely To Be Needed

A good liniment is probably more often needed than any other kind of remedy. If you have no need for Fleming's General Liniment now, you likely will have before long, and it might be well to procure a bottle and have it ready. There are liniments that cost less, but a cheap liniment must be made of cheap ingredients. There are also liniments that cost more, but we do not know of anything that they could be made of to make them better or worth more. Your money back if you do not get big money's worth from use of Fleming's General Liniment.

$100 Clear In Four Weeks.

Gentlemen:—Please send me your Veterinary Adviser. I bought a mule last year for $12 that a veterinarian had treated for a year and done no good for a bad ringbone. I treated her one time and sold her for $125. Just kept her four weeks and made $100 clear on her. Your Paste is unequalled.—C. B. Mays, Milan, Tenn.

Bad Sidebone.

Dear Sirs:—I had a bay mare about the age of fourteen years which took sidebone and was so lame I had to whip her to get her to move. A good veterinarian told me that there was no use of my wasting any money on her. I read about your guarantee and thought I could not lose anything, so I got your Spavin and Ringbone Paste, and in four months she was cured sound. She was in the worst stage, but is now as sound as a dollar, and I made just one application.—W. E. Peters, Newton Hamilton, Pa.

Returned Refund.

Gentlemen:—I am enclosing to you $2 to pay for the bottle of Spavin and Ringbone Paste. I ordered it from you some time back and did not think it was going to cure my mare, but I now find that the lameness is almost gone. I sent the money to you when I ordered. You sent it back when I thought it was not going to cure, so now I send it back to you.—D. E. Lasater, Keshkonong, Mo.

Not a Lamé Step.

Gentlemen:—I am well satisfied with the results from your Spavin and Ringbone Paste which has cured a bone spavin on my mare of at least three years' standing. She hasn't gone lame one step since using the second application. She had been very lame, and for eight or nine months was at times hardly able to put her foot to the ground.—C. F. Calvert, Leonard, Ark.

Foot Sound As The Other.

Gents:—I feel it my duty to tell you what your Spavin and Ringbone Paste did for me. I have a mule worth $300 that everybody said could not be cured. Two applications cured it. She is just as sound in that foot now as any other. I had tried everything before trying yours.—Chas. W. Lewis, Mullins, S. C., R. 1.

Bottle Worth $125.

Dear Sirs:—The Spavin and Ringbone Paste I got from you cured a $175 horse. I would never have believed in curing ringbone if I hadn't cured one myself. I thank you very much for this cure, which is worth $125 to me.—Mrs. Paul Regier, Electric, Mont.

Five-Year-Old Spavin.

Gentlemen:—About a year ago we sent to you for a bottle of Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste, as we had a mare with a spavin of five years' growth. We applied the Paste just once and went according to directions, and today she is all right and more serviceable than she was seven years ago. Before this treatment she was very lame.—Robenstine Bros., Mogadore, Ohio, R. 10.

As Valuable As Ever.

Dear Sirs:—We cured, with one application of your Spavin and Ringbone Paste, a case of ringbone of about three years' standing, and the animal is as valuable today as she ever was and doesn't show any sign of having had it, with the exception of a small scar. We shall always recommend and use your preparations.—Sheehy & Company, Cotton Buyers, Durant, Miss., No. 2.

A Definite Fact.

Gentlemen:—Find enclosed $2 for one bottle of your Spavin and Ringbone Paste. It is a sure cure; that is a fact. I have been using it two years and have never met with a failure.—Z. H. Canniff, 2317 Union St., Houston, Tex.

Great Success.

Dear Sirs:—I have used your Spavin and Ringbone Paste on my horse with great success after the veterinarians, several of them, told me my horse would never be of any more use. Now he is as well as ever. I have used him on the road, for breaking new land; in fact, doing everything that horses do, and he is just fine.—A. L. Allen, Oregon City, Ore., R. 2, Box 64.

Walked On Three Legs.

Gentlemen:—Your Spavin and Ringbone Paste is O. K. My horse was so lame with a spavin that he could only walk on three legs, but one application of your remedy has cured him.—A. G. Reid, Dafter, Mich.

Dead Lamé For A Year.

Dear Sirs:—I used your Spavin and Ringbone Paste and it cured my horse entirely. I have recommended it to lots of people and cannot praise it enough. My horse had been dead lame for over a year when I got your medicine, and he is now as sound as can be.—Wm. Burnside, Urbana, Ohio, R. 8.

Good Investment at $50.

Dear Sirs:—I used your Spavin and Ringbone Paste on a mule last fall, that I bought at a sales stable for $31. The mule limped for two months after I began to work her, but now the lameness is entirely gone, and I think I would have made a good investment if I had paid you $50 for the little bottle of Paste.—J. D. Gibson, General Merchandise, Jackson, Va.

Sold For $15.

Gentlemen:—On Aug. 13, 1913, I ordered one box of your Spavin and Ringbone Paste, and put on an application of it. On Dec. 2d I put it on again, and now the mare is sound and well. She sold, two years ago, for $200. Last August she sold for $15, and now I have refused $125 for her. I have also cured another case out of the same box, and it looks as though I have enough left to cure a dozen more. The Spavin and Ringbone Paste is the best I ever tried.—Vinson Sowers, Hardware and Agricultural Implements, Allensville, Ohio.

Still On Duty.

Dear Sirs:—I have used different kinds of your medicines and have found them very satisfactory. I was in the livery business and also buying and selling horses in the little town of Windsor, Calif. I traded for a coal black mare six years old with two bone spavins, one on each hind leg, and she was not able to travel. I sent for your Spavin and Ringbone Paste, and in three months began driving the mare and used her for six years. I sold my stable and stock six years ago, and the mare is still doing duty as a livery horse.—Merton Laughlin, Healdsburg, Calif., R. 3.

In Harness Every Day.

Dear Sirs:—The mare that I used your Spavin and Ringbone Paste on has been in the collar every day this summer. Before I used the Paste she could scarcely get out of the barn. Within thirty days she was able for the collar. A veterinarian had blistered it twice and fired it once to no avail. This one application did the work.—Ira O. Snyder, Carlisle, Ind.

Sound Seven Years.

Dear Sirs:—I want to say a few words in regard to a horse that I treated with your remedy for sidebone, and it did everything you claimed it would. It has been some seven or eight years since I cured him and he is as sound as a dollar now. I have got the utmost confidence in your remedies and if I can do you any good I shall be glad to do so.—D. F. Bentley, Gallatin, Tenn.

Don't Let the Lumps Go Too Long

This is a busy season, but don't forget to inspect your herd occasionally to see whether any lump jaws are developing. If you find any, don't put off treatment on account of other work. Generally speaking, the earlier you begin the easier cured, and it doesn't take much time anyway to use Fleming's Actinoform. You don't have to apply it every day, but only about once in ten days or two weeks, and if you catch the case at the very start a single application is likely to be enough. :: :: :: :: :: :: ::

Spavin Liquid

Per bottle, $2. See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

Sent prepaid on receipt of amount.

This preparation is in liquid form, but it is not a liniment. If used like a liniment, you would be using too much. The directions will make that plain.

Broadly speaking, Fleming's Spavin Liquid is used upon all blemishes except such as we advise treating with the Spavin and Ringbone Paste. In order that you may more clearly understand what to use it for and what to expect it to do, we will give brief mention to the principal kinds of cases for which it affords a suitable treatment.

Bog Spavin.—If the horse is lame or shows signs of weakness in the part, treat the case, using Fleming's Spavin Liquid. It will usually overcome the lameness and is likely to take away the enlargement. If there is no lameness, the bunch is apt to be obstinate, and its removal more doubtful than in cases where lameness is present. We think that treatment is successful in only about 75 per cent. of such cases, so unless the bunch seems to be increasing, we do not urge attempting to remove it, and especially if the horse is of the large-boned type.

Bog spavin and similar puffy enlargements sometimes appear upon the hocks of young colts. Usually in these cases there is no lameness and we advise letting them alone, as they often disappear of their own accord as the animal attains its growth. However, if you consider it desirable to treat the case, you may apply Fleming's General Liniment lightly about once a week or ten days.

Some confuse bog spavin and blood spavin. Blood spavin is merely a dilation of the vein crossing the part. It is both harmless and incurable.

Thoroughpin.—This is practically the same in character as bog spavin, but differently situated. What is said in reference to treating bog spavin applies to thoroughpin also.

Capped Hock.—Treat only the recent cases and those causing lameness. An old case that is not troublesome should be left alone, as there is but slight chance that such a blemish can be removed.

Splint.—What is said about capped hock applies to splint as well. After taking on a hard, bony character, the blemish is permanent, and if the horse is not lame, there is nothing to be gained by treatment.

Curb.—The same is true of curb. Treat only the new cases, and those of the old ones that are giving trouble.

Wind Gall.—These blemishes are nearly always harmless. They can sometimes be removed, but treating for this result is uncertain, so we do not urge it. If they cause lameness, treat them, using Fleming's Spavin Liquid.

Stifle Lameness.—Allow rest and use Fleming's Spavin Liquid on a small spot over the affected part, repeating on different spots at intervals of ten days or two weeks. This has been very successful in cases of the kind. In mild and recent cases, Fleming's General Liniment is likely to prove sufficient, but it is not recommended for the old and chronic cases.

Recent Bone Spavin.—If you catch a bone or "jack" spavin in the very beginning, and especially if the animal is young, Fleming's Spavin Liquid should prove sufficiently active to overcome the lameness or "kill it," and it has the advantage of producing no mark or scar. But notice that we say RECENT cases—we do not claim that it will produce such results where the blemish has become well established. It does frequently cure the lameness in the older cases, and if you happen to have the remedy on hand it is well to give it a trial. But if you are ordering a remedy to treat bone spavin that has been observed for six months or so and is causing marked lameness, get Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste. Let bone spavin alone altogether if there are no signs of lameness.

Recent Ringbone.—Where ringbone is just beginning to lame a young horse, use Fleming's Spavin Liquid, especially if you wish to avoid a scar. The bunch cannot be reduced except in a few of the most recent cases. Where the case is somewhat advanced the Spavin and Ringbone Paste will be required, but do not treat with the Paste unless there is marked lameness.

Recent Sidebone.—What we have said about ringbone will apply to sidebone also, which is much the same and requires the same treatment.

Fleming's Spavin Liquid does not scar the horse. It blisters, but the hair grows in again when the part is healed.

We guarantee it to the extent of the claims we make for it, and refund the money if it fails. We refer you to Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser for illustrations and descriptions of different kinds of blemishes and forms of lameness.

Directions accompany every bottle.

Note: The testimonials here printed differ from the original letters in that the old name, Fleming's Spavin Cure (Liquid), is changed to Fleming's Spavin Liquid, the new name for the same preparation.

Cured Six.

Gentlemen:—I have used your Spavin Liquid on six spavins and cured them all, and also took the bunches off with it. I have used your remedies for the past four years and have never had a failure yet.—Milton H. Garside, Paterson, N. J., R. 3.

Brought $225.

Dear Sirs:—I had a colt that a few years ago I would have sold for $50 he had bog spavin so bad, but after making two applications of your Spavin Liquid he got all right and brought $225.—W. C. Galleher, Leesburg, Va., R. 1.

A Successful Experiment.

Gentlemen:—I thought you might be interested in hearing of an experiment I made with your Spavin Liquid. I had a yearling with eight fibroma tumors on her; two on her neck as large as my two fists, all absolutely hard. I blistered them all off with the Spavin Liquid, and gave her some sulphate of iron and gentian about twice a week, and the heifer is perfectly smooth and well and heavy with calf. Of course, it took me some time to effect a cure, and I had to blister the large tumors a number of times.—Richard Bennett, V. S., Palmer, Tex.

Cured A Splint.

Dear Sirs:—I got a bottle of your Spavin Liquid and used it on my mare that was lame with a splint, and I used it only once and she has not taken a lame step since.—Allan McLean, Monticello, Maine, R. F. D. Box 69.

A Big and Unnecessary Loss

How many horses die every year for lack of Fleming's Colic Mixture? We do not know, but surely a good many. The great trouble is that so few horse owners will take thought to provide in advance of the actual need. The few that do save their horses, as you will see by reading the testimonials. The others take a chance, and when colic comes they have to hustle around for whatever help may be available. Fleming's Colic Mixture costs only a dollar, and we think it comes nearest to never failing of any remedy that we have.

Two Applications Did It.

Dear Sirs:—I suppose you wonder why I never sent for your Spavin Liquid. The reason is I can get it right here and don't have to wait on it to come. I have a horse with a bog spavin, and I am using your Spavin Liquid on it. It has taken away all the lameness with just two applications. I do not think there is a better remedy for Spavin, for I have used all kinds and they all failed but this.—Miss Emma Barrett, New Brighton, Pa.

Cured Five.

Dear Sirs:—The Spavin Liquid I got from you is certainly O. K., as I cured five cases of very bad standing.—P. L. Hettinger, White Heath, Ill.

Splint and Spavin.

Dear Sirs:—Your Spavin Liquid came to hand last spring and did the work satisfactorily in two bad cases, viz. splint and spavin. I have recommended your medicines to a great many who have tried them with satisfactory results.—S. S. Lankford, Milton, N. C., R. 1, Box 102.

Lost Summer's Work.

Gentlemen:—I received one bottle of your Spavin Liquid and it cured my mule that was lame one year, and I had lost one summer's work with her. She is now well, and I thank you for it.—Levi Maness, Carters Mills, N. C.

Recent Sidebone and Stifle Trouble.

Gentlemen:—Two years ago, or nearly so, I purchased a bottle of your Spavin Liquid, which I used on my horse for sidebone, and it cured him completely with two blisterings. This spring I had one to dislocate his patella, and I tied his leg forward and blistered the spot over the patella with the Spavin Liquid, and to my great surprise he got entirely all right.—James Gaard, Elmore, Minn.

Bunch On Knee.

Dear Sirs:—I wish to say that in April, 1914, I purchased a bottle of your Spavin Liquid to use on a horse for a bunch on the knee, caused from falling to the pavement. I must say it did fine work for me, completely removing all lameness.—N. T. Nelson, 2110 Slawson Ave., Racine, Wis.

Severe Bog.

Gentlemen:—Your Spavin Liquid has cured my horse of a severe case of bog spavin, and he is now doing work as good as ever. I can't recommend your medicine too highly.—W. A. Clayton, Copper Hill, Va.

Took First Prize.

Gentlemen:—About ten years ago I traded horses and got a mare about ten years old. She had a terrible bog spavin on her hind leg and was so lame I could hardly get her home. The man who owned her had tried to cure the spavin by blistering, etc., and only made it worse, and such a looking leg you never saw. I sent to you for your Spavin Liquid, used it and cured it as far as lameness went. I got her for a breeder as I knew she was good blood. I have raised five fine young horses from her and look for another colt next year. Not one of these colts has ever had a blemish. I wish to add that this mare has not only raised five colts, but has done her share of hard work right along, and a goodly portion of the single roading. She and her family took first prize one year at the Saratoga County Fair. She is well worth one hundred dollars today, but when I got her she was certainly the lamest horse I ever saw.—E. B. Murray, Sunnycrest Farm, Ballston Lake, N. Y.

Two Curbs.

Dear Sirs:—I cured a couple of curbs on my horses last year, and I think your Spavin Liquid is the best I ever used and I would not be without it if it were $5 a bottle.—Fred Leichtle, Cold Springs, Ky.

Read Inside of Back Cover When Ordering

When making up an order, don't overlook the "Assortment Offer" at the top of the price list. Some send five-dollar orders and specify only five dollars' worth of remedies, and we have to write telling them that they are entitled to a six-dollar lot, and asking what more we shall send. Also read the "Points for Special Notice" in the left-hand column of the same page.

General Liniment

Sent prepaid for $1.

See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

There is a wide range of cases for which we have never before supplied a suitable treatment. They are those that call for treatment that is more mild than blistering. In general, they are such cases as are commonly and properly treated by means of penetrating, stimulating and mildly counter-irritant applications. They are cases that are many in number, but for the most part less serious than those upon which active blistering is employed.

Remedies that are used by pouring a little in the hand, then rubbing or embrocating the affected part, belong to the family of liniments. There are quite a number of preparations upon the market that are so used, some being called liniments and some bearing other names. They differ greatly, both as to formula and cost. They range in price from twenty-five cents to several dollars per bottle.

The word "liniment" is well known and conveys considerable meaning. Of itself, it affords a general idea as to what the preparation so named is for and how it is to be used. Therefore, we call this new preparation of ours, Fleming's General Liniment, because it is for use upon any case that you would ordinarily treat by the application of a liniment, and it is applied in practically the same way that other liniments are used.

Liniments may be made of cheap ingredients, and still have some merit. Fleming's General Liniment contains every ingredient that we believe will contribute to its excellence, regardless of the cost. That it is different from common liniments, you will notice at once, and we believe that a trial will convince you that it is superior in the work it does. It is not a thin fluid, like water, but has more the appearance of an oil of moderate heaviness and of an amber color, but it is not oily, as you may know from the fact that it will mix readily with water. It is not a mere mixture, but its ingredients are in chemical combination, and from a pharmaceutical standpoint we consider that Fleming's Liniment is the most perfect of anything that we have ever produced.

What It Is For

Generally speaking, liniments are used in the treatment of ailments of a superficial character, and not deep-seated disorders or those involving internal organs. Use it for soreness or lameness in muscles, tendons or joints, for sprains, swellings, bruises, etc. For garget or caked bag in milch cows, we know of nothing equally good, but it will not restore an udder that has been ruined by such an attack.

Fleming's Liniment may also be employed as a healing application for old and sluggish sores, and for cracked heels or "scratches." It is very antiseptic and also stimulating, so that it tends to set up a sort of alterative action in the part, which is desirable in the class of sores that we have mentioned.

This preparation has one use that is rather out of the ordinary for a liniment. It forms with water a most perfect antiseptic lotion or wash for cleansing fresh wounds. The proper dilution for such a purpose is about one tablespoonful to a pint of water, with which it forms a white emulsion. Having it on hand may, therefore, provide you against an emergency, and as an antiseptic lotion to use on the navel cord of a young foal for the purpose of preventing what is known as navel disease, we do not know of anything that could be better. For such a purpose, the lotion may be applied once or twice daily while there is rawness.

For use as a liniment on young colts, or in any case where a very mild effect is desired, Fleming's Liniment may be diluted with an equal part of water before applying.

It should be understood that Fleming's Liniment is not for spavin or any of the established blemishes, but is suitable for overcoming the early effects of injuries such as are likely to develop into spavins or other serious blemishes if neglected.

In general, Fleming's Liniment is for the treatment of such cases as a liniment should be expected to relieve, and if you treat such cases with it and do not get a big, honest dollar's worth in the way of results, let us know and we will return the dollar to you.

Some will want to know whether Fleming's Liniment will blister a horse. It is possible to produce a blistering effect by applying freely and with considerable friction, but for ordinary cases just enough should be used to act as a mild counter-irritant, and the applications repeated with such frequency as the effect observed may indicate. This is made plain in the directions.

As a Family Liniment

It is not our wish or intention to advertise or urge the sale of this liniment for general family use, because our attention has all along been given to veterinary lines, and we mean to continue in the same way.

However, liniments have for many years been used for various minor human ailments, so anticipating a question that we would otherwise have to answer over and over again by letter, we will say that Fleming's General Liniment is entirely suitable for human use; in fact, it is just as suitable for such use as though it were not intended for use upon animals at all, and it is just as we would make it if we were endeavoring to put upon the market the best possible household liniment. It may be added, however, that with the exception

Get After The Spavins and Ringbones Now

There are a good many horses that have had to do more or less work through the busy season, in spite of spavins and ringbones. From this time on the greater number of them can be given plenty of rest, so this is the opportunity to give them the needed treatment. It is necessary to give rest if you are to accomplish any real good in a case of the kind, and we never advise using Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste under any other conditions. Don't put it off—that might mean not doing it at all, and another season of lameness.

that the Veterinary Healing Oil is sometimes used by persons, all our other preparations are strictly for veterinary use.

It might appear to some not familiar with the facts, that a liniment intended to be used upon horses would necessarily be too strong for use upon a person. On the contrary, the skin of a horse is of such a nature and texture as to render it more easily affected by an application of this kind. A considerable blistering action may be obtained upon a horse by applying freely and rubbing it in thoroughly, but the same application upon the average person would produce very little, if any, sensation or visible effect. Upon some of the more sensitive parts, a mild burning or itching sensation and a slight appearance of rash for a short time might follow a free application well rubbed in.

Fleming's General Liniment may, therefore, be used upon the human body for the relief of those conditions that are commonly treated by the application of liniments, such as muscular rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness or soreness in muscles or joints, sprains, bruises, etc. It may be applied once or twice daily and rubbed well in. If a rash should appear, let it subside somewhat before applying again. It may also be employed to relieve the soreness in corns and chilblains, and for healing cracked or chapped hands, but it will smart for a time if the chaps are deep.

How To Get It

Fleming's General Liniment comes in a much larger bottle than any of the other preparations that we put out. It is a thing for which there should be a wide general demand, and druggists will no doubt receive many calls for it, so that most of them will likely have it in stock before long. You can order it direct from us, or if your druggist has it, you may get it from him. If you ask your druggist for it and he hasn't it, but offers to order it for you, tell him to send the order to the wholesale drug house and not to us, because we do not carry accounts with retail druggists at all. If the order is to be sent to us, send it yourself accompanied by the correct remittance. Do not take any other liniment when it is Fleming's that you want.

Testimonials for Fleming's General Liniment will appear in the next issue of our almanac. We have some of the most excellent reports from tests made, but no testimonials of the regular kind from people who have bought the Liniment and paid their money for it in the regular way, because at the time of writing this, not a bottle has been sold. If you buy and use Fleming's Liniment, we shall be glad to know what satisfaction it gives, particularly in the treatment of animals.

Tonic Heave Powders

Sent prepaid for $1.

See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

If you have a horse that needs something in the way of a tonic and blood purifier, give him Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders.

That may seem odd, considering that he hasn't the heaves, but the explanation is that the only reason it cures heaves is because it is so good as a general tonic and alterative.

It is pretty generally considered that heaves proper is not a disease of the lungs, but rather a reflex nervous disorder, usually arising from digestive derangement. This explains why overfeeding, drinking too copiously of cold water, etc., so often tends to aggravate the heaving.

Broadly speaking, a tonic is a remedy that tends to correct trouble wherever it exists. This is done by gradually and permanently improving digestion and assimilation, and imparting strength and tone to the whole system. It is clearly seen, therefore, why a tonic remedy may be expected to do the most for heaves.

It would be wrong to say that all cases of heaves are curable. We offer this preparation, not as a certain cure, but as the best we are able to supply, and, as we believe, the best treatment for heaves that has ever been prepared.

Cases vary. Some are more easily overcome than others, regardless of how bad they seem to be or how long they have existed. The usual quantity required is one to three packages. Even if no improvement is seen from the first package, it is well to use a second, as our experience shows that many cases are slow to yield at first, but come out all right in the end. It is not to be supposed that we guarantee one package to be enough, or that we will send extra packages on trial. Where a mare having heaves is in foal, the treatment is not so likely to be successful, and we advise deferring it until after foaling time.

Do not use Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders with a view to quickly and temporarily suppressing the symptoms in order to make a trade. It acts slowly and is calculated to do lasting good, instead of temporarily covering up the symptoms.

Read the testimonials. They tell best what Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders do, and if you use this preparation without at least sufficient benefit to justify the purchase, the money will be refunded to you.

For more complete information upon heaves, and also other respiratory affections, see Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser.

Try Fleming's General Liniment

If you have a case of any kind that ought to be helped by use of a liniment, and the liniment you have used hasn't helped it, try our new preparation on it—Fleming's General Liniment. This liniment is made to do the utmost good that a liniment can do, and not to merely fill a bottle. It is for any purpose for which a liniment would ordinarily be applied, and we will hand your money back if you are not pleased with it. Read what is said about it elsewhere in this Almanac. :: :: :: :: :: :: :: ::

When a Horse Needs a Tonic

A horse may need a tonic at any season of the year, but among farm horses a remedy of this kind is more likely to be needed in the early spring than at any other time.

The long continued chill of winter, with irregular exercise or almost none at all, eating dry and bulky food, which is often of a kind that is more or less indigestible as well as low in nourishing properties, drinking icy water, etc., tends to create a state of general sluggishness and low vitality. The processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination become impaired, the blood becomes impure, the pores closed, the skin scurfy and sometimes tightly drawn over the ribs, the hair stands on end and does not shed, and the horse remains thin whether his appetite is good or bad.

In a condition such as this we know of nothing in the way of a tonic and blood purifier so satisfactory as Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders, and it is economical to use because a package goes so far. Use it also for coughs, skin eruptions, etc. We do not claim that it will always be successful, but it is an excellent general remedy for many of the common ailments among horses.

Your money refunded if the result is not such as to please you.

Directions accompany every package.

Note:—The testimonials here printed differ from the original letters in that the old name, Fleming's Tonic Heave Remedy, is changed to Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders, the new name for the same preparation.

Sound Three Years.

Gentlemen:—I gave your Heave Powders to a horse three years ago, and he was cured and is still all right. I think it is a great remedy for heaves.—John A. Andis, Sr., Greenfield, Ind., R. 1.

Would Not Have Been Worth a Dollar.

Gentlemen:—I have used four boxes of your Tonic Heave Powders since last fall and they have done a world of good. They saved a mare for me that would not have been worth a dollar had it not been for your wonderful remedy.—John Borkes, Garrettsville, Ohio, R. 26, Box 120.

Saved Season's Work.

Dear Sirs:—Through your Tonic Heave Powders I got a summer's work out of a horse otherwise useless with heaves. Your Vest Pocket Veterinary Adviser also saved a $75 cow for me last fall. She had impaction of the third stomach.—Wm. G. Lord, Crivitz, Wis.

Heaves Don't Bother.

Gentlemen:—I used three or four boxes of your Tonic Heave Powders last year, and found them to be very beneficial. Four years ago I had a horse, that was then twenty-one years old, to come down with the heaves. Three years ago he was so bad that I had to turn him out. Could not use him last winter and turned him out again in the spring. I then gave him a box of the Heave Powders and some flaxseed meal. He is now twenty-five years old, fat and has worked every day all this summer, and the heaves don't bother him a bit. You would hardly know he ever had them.

Five years ago I had a mare nineteen years old, that had a fistula come on her neck or shoulder, and the veterinary advised me to kill her. I got your fistula medicine, and two bottles cured her. She is alive yet and entirely cured of the fistula. Your medicines are great.—P. H. Costello, Livonia, N. Y., R. 2.

Cured Entirely.

Dear Sirs:—I wrote you from Kokomo, Ind., last spring for your Tonic Heave Powders, and they cured my son's horse entirely, and he drove him with another one here to Lexington with his family. He has since disposed of him for $125. He stood the trip fine and has never shown any signs of the old trouble, so you see I am rustling for Fleming Bros.—Mrs. G. O. Adams, Lexington, Ky., R. 7, Box 12.

Great Success.

Gentlemen:—I have used your remedies with great success. I had a horse with the heaves, and a bad case. One package entirely cured him, and I kept him at least a year after the treatment and saw no more signs of heaves. Another case was a horse with a bad eye. The eye was nearly blind. It was badly inflamed and ran water all the time. I thought sure the eye was a goner. As I had used your Tonic Heave Powders with success, I tried your Eye Lotion, and to my surprise one bottle restored the eye to its usual sight again.—Alice L. Leonard, 83 Randall St., Easton, Mass.

Didn't Heave All Summer.

Gentlemen:—Find enclosed Money Order for $1, for which please send me one package of Tonic Heave Powders. I used two packages and cured a bad case of the heaves, and the mare is as sound as ever. I have worked her all summer, and she shows no sign at all of heaves. I want this for one that needs a tonic.—W. O. Culp, Udell, Iowa.

Had Heaves Bad.

Gentlemen:—I sent you an order for your remedies and they are good. The Heave Powders cured a six-year-old gelding last summer that was worth $250. He had the heaves bad. The boys sent for two boxes of your Heave Powders, and by fall he was cured, and today he works every day at the hardest kind of work; not a sign of heaves. When turned out he frisks like a colt. I have also used your lump jaw medicine. It is a dead shot for lump jaw, but take in time.—S. H. F. Schoulte, Evergreen Stock and Grain Farm, McGregor, Iowa, R. 2.

Cured For The Doctor.

Dear Sirs:—Enclosed please find stamps for which please send me a box of Tonic Heave Powders. I have just sent home a bad case which I cured with the last I got from you.—Richard Bennett, V. S., Palmer, Tex.

Made $40.

Sirs:—Please send me one box of Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders. I used a box three years ago and it made $40 for me. I used it on a mare that was seven years old and had the worst case of heaves I had seen in a long time. I have not got a case of heaves now, but have a horse run down in flesh and want to build him up. I know it will do the work. There is nothing better than Fleming's Heave Powders to put a horse in shape for work or the market, and it will last too.—Harry H. Herst, Pontiac, Ill., R. 6.

Cured Two and Helped Another.

Dear Sirs:—The Heave Powders I got from you last spring did a great deal of good for me. I cured two horses and greatly helped another very bad case, and have used only four boxes out of the six I got.—S. H. Carter, Mt. Jackson, Va.

Can't Tell She Ever Had Heaves.

Gentlemen:—Your Tonic Heave Powders worked fine. I can't tell that my mare ever had any heaves.—J. V. Massey, Vidor, Tex.

Heaves and Indigestion.

Dear Sirs:—Some little time ago I bought a box of your Tonic Heave Powders. At the time I had a mare in a run down condition with indigestion and some heaves. She has no indigestion now and no signs of heaves, and I would not take $300 for her.—H. L. Lawrence, West Swanzey, N. H.

Great Work.

Gentlemen:—I got a package of your Tonic Heave Powders this summer and gave them to a horse that had the heaves, and they did great work. The horse is all right now.—R. W. Kilgore, North Newry, Maine.

Helps His Neighbors.

Dear Sirs:—Find Money Order enclosed for which please send one bottle of your fistula medicine. I bought a bottle of it last June and cured my mare in a short time. Then, a little later, I sent an order for J. F. Johnson, of Richwood, for your Tonic Heave Powders. He had a mare six years old which the veterinary said he could not do any good after making six trips. I advised your Heave Powders and sent for him. After giving one box his mare was sound and well, and today he can get $150 for her. A little later on I sent for another bottle of the fistula medicine for S. A. Lamghrey, of Marysville. He had a registered mare which took poll evil, and he came to me and I sent for him. His mare was very bad, but it cured her in a short time. I write you these few lines to let you know what your remedies are doing.—J. E. Hurd, Marysville, O., R. 1.

General Disorder.

Gentlemen:—The Tonic Heave Powders I sent for did fine work on a run-down horse that I bought. He would not eat. Now he is looking for his feed as soon as he can hear anyone coming near the stable. Great stuff that is. It looks like a small lot for the money, but it is better than $10 worth of any stock powder I know of.—Carl Brendel, Virden, Ill., Lock Box 964.

No Symptoms Noticeable.

Dear Sirs:—Enclosed find $1. for which send me one box of Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders. I have used one box and feel so well satisfied that I would advise any man to use none other than Fleming's. My horse has been troubled with heaves for the past year, and since feeding one box you don't notice any symptoms of the heaves, but I thought it well to feed one more to be sure he is cured.—Charlie Klein, Mascoutah, Ill., R. 3.

Satisfactory Tonic.

Gentlemen:—I have used your Healing Oil and the Tonic Heave Powders. The Healing Oil is a great healer and the Heave Powders are the most satisfactory tonic I ever used. I gave a box to a hide-bound mare last winter, and she improved right away in flesh and spirits.—Fred R. Harvey, Bainville, Mont.

Never Found Its Equal.

Dear Sirs:—Please find enclosed $1 for which send me one package of Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders. I have used a great many remedies, but have never found anything equal to this as a tonic. It makes the animal's hair look good. It keeps the general health perfect.—J. B. Altizer, Commissioner of the Revenue, Raven, Va.

Could Hardly Pull The Cutter.

Dear Sirs:—If you remember, a year ago I sent for a box of your Tonic Heave Powders. I had got a mare that was so far gone that she was hardly able to handle the cutter home. They were all laughing at me. Six weeks after I started to give her your remedy I sold her for $160.—Henry Parent, Cylon, Wis.

Colic Mixture

Sent prepaid for $1.

See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

The value of the horses that die every year from colic would be sufficient to make you rich hundreds of times over.

No other thing kills so many good horses. And you never know when it is coming.

Read the letters about Fleming's Colic Mixture.

It comes nearest to never failing of any remedy that we have.

See how often the people say that it saved a horse—and we don't think you ever knew horses to be worth more money than they are today.

Just the simple fact of having this remedy on hand saved horses for these people—and for a lot of others not mentioned.

You know what Fleming's Colic Mixture will do, though you may never have seen a bottle of it—these letters tell you.

You have horses, and you know that they may die of colic.

You know, too, that there isn't any time to be wasted when a bad case of colic gets hold of a horse.

There won't be any time to get Fleming's Colic Mixture then—and perhaps no time to do anything else.

Get it now and be ready.

If everybody would just do that there wouldn't be much colic loss.

It will keep for any length of time if the bottle is always securely corked—don't open it until you have to.

The bottle contains eight doses, and one to three doses are enough. The directions tell how to recognize different forms of colic and how to give the remedy.

Order a bottle, and if it ever fails, ask for your money back. Even if you shouldn't need it, you'll feel better for having it, and that in itself will be worth the dollar it costs.

Note:—The testimonials here printed differ from the original letters in that the old name, Fleming's Colic Cure, is changed to Fleming's Colic Mixture, the new name for the same preparation.

Had Colic Two Days.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find $1, for which send me one bottle of your Colic Mixture. It is a medicine that surely works wonders. I have cured a horse with it that was given up as lost, for he had a bad spell of colic for two days and everything possible was done for him without effect until your medicine was given, then the horse was well in two hours.—Charley Charvat, Wagner, S. D.

Keeps Neighbors Supplied.

Dear Sirs:—Please find enclosed $1 to pay for one bottle of your Colic Mixture. I just can't keep it, my friends call for it so often, and I let them have it at your price, and order more. While I do not make any profit, it is sure a blessing to them. We have not lost one case where we used your medicine. This is $6 worth that I have ordered from first to last, and I have had some to send their own orders. I let a neighbor have the last bottle last night and it saved a $125 mule. I have calls for it nearly every week.—T. H. Barbour, Fortuna, Mo.

Best Medicine.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find $2. Send me two bottles of your Colic Mixture by return mail. I have lots of horses and cannot be without it. It is the best medicine for horses that I have ever seen.—Frank Peter, Crandon, S. D.

Saved Three; Half Left.

Dear Sirs:—Three years ago I got a bottle of Fleming's Colic Mixture to have for an emergency. After a year and a half I needed it, and saved a fine mare and two colts. I still have half of the bottle.—Phillip Hoffman, Walker, Mo. R. 3.

Never Lost a Case.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find $1, for which please send me one bottle of your Colic Mixture. I have used one bottle during the last five years, and I can say that it has been worth many times its trifling cost. I have never lost a case with it yet.—A. J. Robinson, Marshalltown, Ia., R. 6.

One Dose Does The Work.

Kinds Sirs:—I think your Colic Mixture is fine. I have tried it in several cases and one dose always does the work.—B. M. Harper, Madill, Okla.

Could Hardly Stand.

Dear Sirs:—Last summer I bought from you three bottles of Colic Mixture. I gave one bottle to my son, and a few days ago he had a horse with colic so severe that he could hardly keep him on his feet long enough to drench him. He is now well and he credits it to the cure. I will never be without it.—Bartus Trew, Chestertown, Md., R. 3.

Saved Neighbor's Mare.

Gentlemen:—Your Colic Mixture saved a fine mare last week for one of my neighbors, and I will not do without it as long as I can get it.—James W. Mellott, Pleasant Ridge, Pa.

Saved From Soap Factory.

Dear Sir:—About a month ago I purchased from you, along with others of your remedies, a bottle of Colic Mixture to be used in case of emergency. Last evening when I got home from the office I learned that my next door neighbor had a horse with colic and had been sick with it for five hours. I immediately diagnosed the case from your Veterinary Adviser as spasmodic colic, and administered a dose of your Colic Mixture, which seemed to almost instantly relieve the horse for about fifteen or twenty minutes, when he commenced to roll and we were unable to get him on his feet for about half an hour, then we finally succeeded in getting him on his feet and walked him around until the hour was up, when we gave him the second dose, and in half an hour afterwards the horse was all O. K., breathing natural and taking life as when in his normal condition. I am enclosing Money Order for $1, for another bottle of your Colic Mixture for my neighbor, and also send me a copy of your Veterinary Adviser. My neighbor told me this morning that if it hadn't been for your Colic Mixture he truly believed that the horse would have been in the soap factory by this time.—O. L. Cline, Box 17, Niles, Ohio.

A Busy Samaritan.

Gentlemen:—Three years ago I bought a bottle of your Colic Mixture, and did not use any of it for six months. The first case I had was a Welsh pony. I gave her half a dose and cured her. About one month ago my neighbor telephoned me to come down and bring anything I had for a sick horse. I took the Colic Mixture with me, and one dose cured this horse. Last night, about bed-time, another neighbor called me to "bring that medicine and hurry over." He said there was a sick horse over at a church near his house. One dose, and in thirty-five minutes he was over the attack. Today, at noon, I got a call at the first place mentioned. The mate to the horse that was sick a month ago was also sick. He was about as bad as a horse ought to get, and one dose put him all right. You will find $1. I want another bottle of your Colic Mixture. As long as I keep horses I don't want to be without it.—Frank Lowther, Guysville, O., R. 2.

Worth $200.

Gentlemen:—I ordered a bottle of Colic Mixture from you that saved a good mare for a friend of mine that he had given up for dead. This mare was swollen and was down and could not get up when I gave her a dose. In fifteen minutes she was up, and by the time we gave her the third dose she was well. I enclose $1 for which send me another bottle, as I am sure this bottle was worth $200 to my friend.—Jno. T. Garrison, Athens, Ark.

Saved Four Horses.

Dear Sirs:—I think there is nothing better than your Colic Mixture. It has saved the life of one horse for me and three for my neighbors. I won't be without it if I can obtain it. You can use this as a testimonial if you wish.—A. B. Caldwell, Ivydale, W. Va.

Saved $350 Horse.

Dear Sirs:—Send me one bottle of your Colic Mixture. The last bottle saved a $350 horse. It is the best colic medicine I can find.—George S. Erb, Betts Ave., Maspeth, L. I., N. Y.

Ready To Eat In Fifteen Minutes.

Dear Sirs:—I feel like telling you about my experience with your Colic Mixture. One year ago the 9th of this month I lost a mare with colic worth $200. I had none of your remedy, and the veterinarian could not do her any good. The 12th of this month I had another one down with colic. I gave her one dose of your Colic Mixture, and in fifteen minutes she was wanting to eat hay. I think every horse owner ought to keep it on hand all the time.—W. P. Ashton, Reinersville, Ohio.

Doctors Did All They Could.

Dear Sirs:—I have used your Colic Mixture with good success. I cured two horses with it after the veterinarians had done all they could. Your Fistoform is also fine. I have cured two horses with it.—William Elliott, Winchester, Ill., R. 3.

Never Failed Yet.

Dear Sirs:—I got a bottle of your Colic Mixture and it has cured three or four horses, and I would not like to be a day without it on hand. It has never failed yet.—A. A. Stewart, Arnold, Pa.

Out And Wants More.

Dear Sirs:—Enclosed find one dollar, for which send me one bottle of Fleming's Colic Mixture. I saved one of my work horses last week with the last two doses I had, so please send as soon as possible, for I do not like to be without it.—John A. Mitchell, Ocala, Fla.

Sweeny Blister

Sent prepaid for $1.

See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

Don't neglect sweeny. Some cases will recover without treatment, but it isn't safe to depend on that. To do so is to take a chance that the horse will never be right again.

If you do not care to treat with Fleming's Sweeny Blister, take your sweenied horse to a veterinarian and have him give the case attention.

Fleming's Sweeny Blister is prepared especially for sweeny and shoulder lameness. Its use does not involve cutting, puncturing the skin, inserting rowels, or anything of the kind. You merely apply lightly upon the surface, and upon only a small surface at that, and it penetrates sufficiently. It stimulates the tissue forming processes, so that the wasting of the muscle ceases and the rebuilding begins. If the horse is not lame, he may do slow and easy work on smooth ground during his recovery.

We guarantee Fleming's Sweeny Blister—your money back if it fails.

Note:—The Testimonials here printed differ from the original letters in that the old name, Fleming's Sweeny Cure, is changed to Fleming's Sweeny Blister, the new name for the same preparation.

Cured Fine Mule.

Gentlemen:—I used your Sweeny Blister on a mule that was sweenied in both shoulders last winter, and it cured her up fine. I can't drive her any place but that somebody is wanting to buy her, she is such a fine mule. I have worked her every day since I bought her, even while she was sweenied. She is worth $225 now.—C. A. Francis, Moundville, Mo.

Both Sides Sweenied.

Dear Sirs:—Last spring I sweenied a three-year-old colt on both sides. I tried other remedies for two months without results. I then tried your Sweeny Blister and got results in two weeks.—Benj. Stevenson, Quinton, N. J.

Applied Only Once.

Gentlemen:—I thought I would write you about your Sweeny Blister. It cured my mule at one application, and has also cured several horses belonging to my neighbors. It has been two years since I cured my mule and he has never shown any sign of sweeny since.—W. O. Edwards, Creal Springs, Ill.

Cured Four and Half Left.

Dear Sirs:—I have used your remedies for three years and I think they can't be beat. They do just what you say they will do. I got a bottle of Sweeny Blister and cured four sweenies and still have half of it left. Your remedies are the best I can buy, and I can recommend them highly.—H. C. Dravis, Mediapolis, Iowa, R. 4.

Worth $100.

Gentlemen:—Your Sweeny Blister did the work. That dollar bottle was worth one hundred dollars to me.—J. B. McDaniel, Wellen, Ore.

Almost Useless.

Dear Sirs:—In 1912 I purchased some of your Sweeny Blister for one of my horses which was almost useless. I used it according to directions, and in four weeks he was over his lameness, and in six months no man would ever know that he had had a sweeny. I have recommended it to my neighbors and friends, and enclosed you will find $2, for which send two more bottles.—Wm. M. Kaegbein, Grand Island, N. Y., R. 1.

Seemed Hopeless.

Gentlemen:—Perhaps it will interest you to know that last March we tried to cure an aggravated case of sweeny on both shoulders with your Sweeny Blister. The case was of six months' standing and seemed hopeless. One bottle, or less, cured the horse entirely, and in five months of hard work since then he has shown no return of the trouble at all.—Geo. L. Kaeding, Mgr. Land Development Co., Battle Mountain, Nevada.

Fourth of a Bottle Cured.

Dear Sirs:—I bought one bottle of your Sweeny Blister in June, 1913, and applied it six or eight different times, and now the horse is completely cured, and I didn't use one-fourth of the bottle. If anybody thinks this untrue I will send them my affidavit any time.—B. F. Huffman, Laneville, W. Va.

Was Well In Three Weeks.

Gentlemen:—It has been about three months since I got your Sweeny Blister. I used it on my mule, and in three weeks he was as well as ever and never has limped since. I have enough left to cure three or four more.—J. H. Stilner, Simers, Ky.

An Old Case.

Dear Sirs:—I bought a horse last fall. She was sweenied, and the man that I bought her from had her turned out all summer. He did not know what to do for her. I sent to you for your Sweeny Blister, used it, and now she is sound.—William H. Carey, Stormville, N. Y.

Bottle Enough For Five.

Gentlemen:—We have cured four mules and one horse with your Sweeny Blister. I have had only the one bottle and still have enough left to cure that many more.—L. I. Gilbert, Stuart, Va.

Pronounced Hopeless Case.

Gentlemen:—I have used Fleming's Sweeny Blister. We had a young horse which was sweenied. The doctor said it was a hopeless case. I learned from a neighbor of your Sweeny Blister, and one bottle did the work. I think it is the best out.—Charles Schultz, Sugar City, Colo.

Note:—A question regarding the treatment of sweeny was answered in the Dakota Farmer. The question was signed with the initials to which the letter below is addressed. This letter was sent by Mr. McNeill to the Dakota Farmer and they sent us a copy of it.

S. M. H., Dear Sir:—I see in the Dakota Farmer of your having trouble with sweeny. That is very easy to cure. You write to Fleming Bros., Chemists, Union Stock Yards, Chicago. Tell them to send you the Sweeny Blister. It will cost $1, but it will cure your horse. It has cured for me often. Tell them to send you the vest-pocket Veterinary Adviser, which you will get free. Go according to the directions that you will get with the medicine, and you will have no trouble.—James McNeill, St. Onge, S. Dak.

Veterinary Eye Lotion

Sent prepaid for 50 cents.

See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

This lotion is for the relief of every eye ailment of animals that is marked by inflammation and soreness.

It will not restore sight in a case of blindness, nor will it improve the sight in partial blindness if the eye structure itself has been impaired by injury or disease.

For moon blindness of horses there is nothing better that we know of to relieve the inflammation and protect the sight, but the attacks are likely to recur at more or less frequent intervals, as the disease is generally considered to be of a constitutional character and incurable.

For all weak, watery, swollen, sore and inflamed eyes among your stock, use Fleming's Veterinary Eye Lotion. If the result is not satisfactory, write for your money back.

Directions accompany every bottle.

Cow Couldn't See.

Dear Sirs:—I have given your valuable Eye Lotion a true test. I have waited nearly two years for the disease to return, and I have found that it has been cured by your wonderful medicine. The cow was unable to see at all at the time I sent for the Eye Lotion, and now she can see as well as the other cattle. I have found it all that you recommend it to be.—M. E. Weliseck, Cary Station, Ill., Box 126.

Good Work For One Bottle.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find Money Order for fifty cents, for which please send to the address on the order blank a bottle of your Veterinary Eye Lotion. Several years ago I got a bottle from you and used it on two young horses, and it cured them, and I still had some of the Lotion left. Some time ago I let a colored neighbor have it and he used it with satisfactory results on one of his horses. Now his horse's eyes are bad again and he wants a bottle of the Lotion, so I have put his name on the order blank and you can send it direct to him. My two horses that I used it on several years ago have not had anything wrong with their eyes since.—H. E. Troy, Box 97, Runge, Tex.

Helped Moon Blindness.

Dear Sirs:—I have a horse that has what is called moon blindness. I got a bottle of your Eye Lotion and used one-half of it the next time his eyes got bad, and it certainly helped him as they didn't get nearly so bad as they had been before. I now have hopes of saving this horse's eyes.—Benj. Detroy, Dexter, Mo., R. 1.

Best He Ever Used.

Gentlemen:—I have used a bottle of your Veterinary Eye Lotion. It is the best medicine for horses' eyes that I have ever used in my life.—Andy Jackson, Gray, Ky.

Veterinary Healing Oil

Sent prepaid for 50 cents.

See assortment offer on inside of back cover.

People generally are too careless in the treatment of small wounds.

They are apt to apply whatever is handiest, and consider it good enough.

But it doesn't take much of a wire cut to ruin a horse sometimes, if treated carelessly in this way or neglected altogether.

Fleming's Veterinary Healing Oil is not expensive, and a bottle goes a long way because it is applied only lightly.

Use it for cuts, galls, sores, burns, or any case requiring a simple healing treatment.

Order now so that you will have it—you are sure to have use for it some time.

Directions accompany every bottle.

Healed Old Sore.

Gentlemen:—I want to say that I would not be without your Healing Oil. It certainly works wonders. It healed a sore on a mare that I bought very cheap because the owner could in no way heal it. One bottle and a half of Healing Oil healed it after the sore had been on the mare for four years. Should you ever want to use this for a testimonial you may for it may do someone good. I am certainly a devoted admirer of your medicines.—R. D. Rice, Delevan, N. Y.

Bad Wire Cut.

Dear Sirs:—Last July I had a fine black mare, cut on the barb wire, in the hock joint, also cutting the cord. It was indeed an ugly place badly torn. After trying all other remedies I knew of to no avail, people advised me to kill her, but instead I sent for Fleming's Veterinary Healing Oil and in a few days I saw a decided change. In two months' time she was running loose in the pasture, and now it is cured up so nicely that the scar is almost the size of a dollar, and as far as being lame, you cannot tell that she has ever been cut.—John F. Lawler, Farland, N. Dak.

Groaned As If Dying.

Gentlemen:—On Dec. 17, 1913, I received one bottle of your Veterinary Healing Oil. I bought this to use on a colt that was cut with barbed wire on Dec. 6th. This was a bad case. She could not put her foot to the ground and would lie down most of the time and would groan like she was dying. Every one that saw the colt said that she would never be of any account that she would always hop. I am glad to say that the Healing Oil has done more than you claim. I had used it but a few times when she could put her foot to the ground, and now she has been entirely well for over two weeks and doesn't limp a bit. The place was larger than my hand and you could see the leaders as plain as could be. I will always recommend your remedies. You can never know how thankful I am that I got your Healing Oil, as I thought so much of this colt and had raised her mother from one-week-old and have her yet at the age of eighteen years. You may print this if you wish.—Mrs. Ada R. Hall, Lynch, Va.

Points for Special Notice

How To Get Them

Fleming's Remedies are not kept in stock at all drug stores. If your druggist handles them you may make your purchase from him, or you may send your order direct to us, accompanied by remittance in accordance with the price list in opposite column, and it will be filled the same day or the day following, depending upon whether it reaches us in the morning or in the evening. Packages are usually sent by parcel post. We pay postage and guarantee safe arrival. If you should ask at a drug store and the druggist hasn't the remedy you want, but offers to get it for you, tell him not to send the order to us, but to a wholesale drug house, as we do not open accounts with retail druggists. If the order is to be sent to us, send it yourself, in your own name, and send the remittance with it.

Checks Not Worth Face Value

We ask that remittance be made by Post Office or Express Money Order, or by Registered Letter. If you must send a personal check, add ten cents to the amount, as the Chicago banks all charge at least ten cents on checks or drafts that are drawn on banks outside of Chicago.

No Accounts Opened

We do not send goods on credit, but require that all make remittance at the time of ordering. This is a definite rule with us, made necessary by the fact that orders range small in amount and large in number. This rule applies regardless of all usual considerations, and not only to individual customers ordering for their own use, but to druggists as well. We have no accounts except with the regular wholesale drug houses.

No C. O. D. Shipments

We do not fill C. O. D. orders, either by Express or Parcels Post.

No Sample Packages or Smaller Sizes

We do not supply sample packages, or sell less than regular sizes of any of our preparations.

We Supply Nothing Else

Do not send us orders for anything other than the articles named in the price list in adjoining column. These are the only goods that we supply. We mention this because we are frequently asked to send some item that we do not have and cannot conveniently procure.

Price List

Assortment Offer

So that those who order for themselves direct from us may be more disposed to get all that is wanted at one time, instead of sending several smaller orders, we offer a reduction of $1 on each order amounting (at the prices here quoted) to $6 or more; $2 reduction on each order amounting to $12 or more, etc. It is to be understood, of course, that this applies only to orders that the customer sends direct to us, and that the entire six dollar lot must be ordered at one time.

Fleming's Actinoform (Page 6)$2.00

For Lump Jaw in cattle, and formerly known as Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure. One bottle is usually enough for a case, and is sometimes enough for several.

Fleming's Spavin Liquid (Page 20)$2.00

For Bog Spavin, Splint, Curb, etc. Formerly called Fleming's Spavin Cure (Liquid). One bottle is sufficient for any case that will yield to its use.

Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste (Page 16) $2.00

For the chronic lameness attending established cases of Bone Spavin, Ringbone and Sidebone. One bottle is usually sufficient for several blemishes.

Fleming's Fistoform (Page 8)$2.00

For Fistula and Poll Evil. Formerly called Fleming's Fistula and Poll Evil Cure. Cases vary as to the quantity needed. Some will require several bottles, and others will need but little. You can get an idea of this variation by reading the testimonials.

Fleming's General Liniment (Page 24)$1.00

This is our new preparation for use on all cases that you would ordinarily treat by applying a liniment. We hope that you will try it, and we will refund the price if you are not highly pleased.

Fleming's Tonic Heave Powders (Page 26)$1.00

The average quantity for case of Heaves is about two packages. Some need but one, while others require three. Used also as a general tonic and alterative for horses. Old name, Fleming's Tonic Heave Remedy.

Fleming's Sweeny Blister (Page 31)$1.00

Old name, Fleming's Sweeny Cure. A bottle is likely to be enough for several cases.

Fleming's Colic Mixture (Page 29)$1.00

Bottle contains 8 doses. Quantity for a case, 1 to 3 doses. Old name, Fleming's Colic Cure.

Fleming's Veterinary Healing Oil (Page 32) 50c

Quantity needed depends upon what you are using it for. It is applied lightly and a bottle goes a long way.

Fleming's Veterinary Eye Lotion (Page 32) 50c

Each bottle, when diluted with water, makes a quart of Lotion right strength to use.

Fleming's Fistula Syringe (Page 8) 50c

Capacity of syringe, one-eighth ounce; length of nozzle or pipe, three inches.

Extra Nozzles for Fistula Syringe, each 20c
